U-BOAT GETS PANAMA TANKER

WILLEMSTAD, Curaco, Feb. 19 (INS)—A Panama-registered tanker was torpedoed off the island of Aruba today, according to the Dutch Indies News Agency Aneta. Previously, "projectiles" had landed in the neighborhood of the Standard Oil refinery at Aruba. "It is not excluded," authoritative sources told Aneta "that these were stray projectiles not fired by the enemy." The new torpedoing brought to six the number of tankers torpedoed or damaged by enemy undersea craft during the last few days off the Dutch West Indies.

Yanks Arrive in Java As Allies Mass Big Army

Batavia, N. E. I.

Feb. 19 (AP)

•OFFICIAL NEWS

Expeditionary forces of the United Nations, including "a relatively small number of Americans"—both ground troops and bomber and fighter pilots from the United States—have arrived in Java to help defend this island stronghold against the inevitable Japanese assault, it was announced today.

The combined expeditionary forces, known previously also to include Australians, it was said authoritatively, are "by no means large enough yet," but "their arrival serves as an indication that the Netherlands Indies do not fight alone."

While Dutch fought stubborn delaying actions in southern Sumatra, southern Borneo and southern Celebes—the stepping stones to the Java citadel of the United Nations—Aneta, official Dutch news agency, was permitted to disclose the arrival of the United Nations' forces.

ALLIES MASS HUGE FORCE

The battles on the approaches to Java are helping the United Nations to mass all possible strength to meet the expected invasion of Java.

Coinciding with the announcement of reinforcements, Batavia had two air raid alarms today but there was no attack. Some observers said that the enemy planes merely flew over the city.

There were wide expressions of confidence that the United States and Australia would supply additional troops as quickly as possible.

Aneta said American ground troops as well as bomber and fighter pilots, who already have aided in the defense of the Indies, are seen frequently in the island, heart of the Dutch East Indies and headquarters of the United Nations supreme command in the southwest Pacific.

The agency quoted authoritative sources as declaring the foreign troops have received a hearty welcome but that "their numbers are by no means large enough yet."

DUTCH SLOW UP JAPS

The agency said Americans often are seen in telephone exchange offices waiting to place calls to their home town, and that in the past six or seven weeks the exchange of one east Java town has been handling an unprecedented number of transpacific telephone calls.

The battle on the Sumatra approach is delaying and cutting down the power of the inevitable

RUSS TRAP FOR NAZIS—Turning pincer strategy on the Germans, the Russian army today was reported to be slowly closing a gigantic trap on between 600,000 and 1,000,000 Nazi troops in the Moscow sector. As map shows, northern Russ drive presses down on Vitebsk, while southern pincer cuts in between Smolensk and Roslavl. JAPS TO HURL FLAMES AT MacARTHUR

Washington

International News Service Staff Correspondent

Revealing that the Japanese are preparing to use flame-throwers in the battle of Bataan, Gen. Douglas MacArthur today reported a regrouping of Japanese troops as a signal for resumption of the land offensive.

In a communique, the War Department disclosed that enemy batteries from the Cavite shore are increasing the intensity of their siege of American forts in Manila bay apparently in the opening action of the long-awaited assault.

First mention of the flame-throwers came when MacArthur reported that his troops had captured "several" such devices in a local action in which other enemy supplies including three pieces of artillery also were taken.

Military sources said this was the first indication that the Japanese were planning to use the deadly flame-throwers in the Philippine conflict.

They added that the throwers have not been used to date against MacArthur.

JAPS PIERCE NEW DEFENSE LINE IN BURMA

Rangoon,

By M. M. HARDINGE

International News Service Staff Correspondent

Japanese forces were admitted officially today to have pierced the new Bilin river defense line in Burma, 50 miles east of the Rangoon-Lashio railway.

But British reports said a concentrated RAF attack on a northern Thailand airdrome broke up a projected Japanese airborne assault to cut the strategic Burma road supply route over which war materials are transported to China.

An official communique admitted that small forces of Japanese had crossed the Bilin. The Japs use small boats to effect the crossing, the communique said, adding that British forces were "still holding their positions."

Russia's armies, knifing into the Republic of White Russia on a triumphant counter-march from Moscow, appeared today to be slowly closing a gigantic trap around a force of perhaps 600,000 to 1,000,000 German troops in the "Napoleonic Corridor" from Mozhaisk to Smolensk.

This seemed clearly indicated by Red army dispatches reporting that Soviet troops had by-passed Smolensk on the north, while other Russian columns were said to have crossed the Sozh river south of Smolensk.

The northern salient, driving from the Velizh sector, was apparently pressing sharply toward German-held Vitebsk, 20 miles inside White Russia, while the southern claw of the Russian pincer cut in between Smolensk and Roslav.

On this basis, the mouth of the German escape corridor presumably had been narrowed to less than 100 miles. Inside the huge rectangle, extending more than 150 miles eastward from Smolensk, was the flower of the German army which Adolf Hitler threw into his ill-fated drive against Moscow late in 1941.

A bulletin from Hitler's field headquarters declared that the Germans had beaten off numerous Russian attacks and asserted vaguely that "more strong enemy detachments" were surrounded and "are approaching annihilation" on the Moscow front.

Soviet Drive Nears White Russia Border

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, Feb. 19 (AP)—Russian troops by-passing Smolensk to the north have penetrated into White Russia, Red army dispatches announced today, but the most westward point of advance specifically mentioned was some 20 miles short of the White Russian border.

The dispatches claimed the recapture of Kresty, in the Velizh district. Velizh itself lies 70 miles northwest of Smolensk and 20 miles east of the frontier of White Russia.

The battle in the Velizh district was described as short but violent.

Front-line dispatches gave this picture of the situation in other sectors:

Russian forces continuing to edge forward with cavalry support in the fighting around Leningrad; an unchecked if unspecified advance west of Kalinin; fierce fighting in the southwest, where Russian tanks were said to have cracked the Nazi lines at one point in a series of tank battles and artillery duels.

In the Leningrad area, the Russians claimed to have captured Dutch soldiers who declared they had been taken from Holland to work in German industries as "Dutch volunteers" and instead "were sent to the front as fighting troops as soon as we reached Germany."

Reds to Hail Victory On Army's Birthday

By HENRY C. CASSIDY

KUIBYSHEV, Russia, Feb. 19 (AP)—The Russian people are looking forward eagerly to the 24th anniversary of the creation of the Red army next Monday with the expectation that widespread liberation of Soviet soil from the Germans will be announced.

Soviet information bureau communiques indicate Russian troops are advancing steadily in their winter offensive and press dispatches have told of a thrust into White Russia, but specific lines of action and cities retaken recently have not been disclosed.

The man in the street believes an impressive number of victories is being accumulated for publication on the Feb. 23 anniversary, which coincides with the start of the ninth month of the Russian-German war.

DARWIN BOMBED TWICE

Sydney, Australia

Feb. 19 (AP)

•OFFICIAL NEWS

More than 100 Japanese bombers and escorting fighter planes attacked the north coast city and port of Darwin, potentially a vital United Nations naval and supply base, in two raids today. It was the first direct assault on the Australian mainland.

Prime Minister John Curtin, from his hospital sickbed, announced that 72 bombers with protective fighter formations participated in the first raid this morning, and that another wave of 21 bombers returned to the attack in the afternoon.

Four of the second group were said to have been shot down.

A communique issued subsequently said the raid lasted about one hour and was directed both against the town itself and against shipping in the harbor.

Some casualties were inflicted and there was some damage to service installations but the details are not yet known, it said.

Darwin's importance to the United Nations has grown as Japan's tide of conquest has rolled southward in the Pacific toward this island continent.

Its location on Australia's northernmost rim gives it a strategic geographic position not only as a fleet base, but also as a gateway for supplies for the defense of the commonwealth.

UNITED RESERVE BASE

At the start of the war in the Pacific, Darwin was essentially a reserve base for the United Nations behind Manila, Singapore and Soerabaja and Amboina in the Netherlands East Indies.

The loss or incapacitation of Darwin might, therefore, banish the United Nations' fleets from that area of the Pacific. Rear Admiral P. E. McNeil, engineering chief of the Australian navy, left for the west coast port of Perth, on the Indian ocean, early this month to direct work which had taken the prime minister himself there.

Darwin actually is little more than an outpost, 3000 miles from southern Australia and without direct rail connection with the industrial southland.

The railroad from Darwin ends at Birdum, 300 miles to the south, and is linked with another connecting with the main federal railroads by a new 600-mile-long highway built in 33 days during 1940.

U. S. Navy Lists 2208 Held Jap Prisoners

By JOHN R. HENRY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19—List of 2208 Americans, all believed held as prisoners of war by Japan, was made public today by the Navy Department.

Official circles in Washington, meanwhile, probed the possibility of obtaining release of the imprisoned group which included 1008 officers and enlisted men of the Navy and Marine Corps and 1200 civilians. Authorities said the chances that the prisoners can be immediately freed are remote.

First mass number of United States citizens officially acknowledged to be in enemy hands, the group includes much of the Marine Corps and Navy personnel who were stationed in China and who manned America's Pacific outposts when Japan made its attack Dec. 7. Among them are many of the heroic defenders of Wake and Guam islands, as well as the civilians employed in construction of defense works at those points.

PRISONERS OF WAR

The Navy Department stated that persons named in the list "are presumed to be prisoners of war."

In explanation, the Navy's announcement said that:

"Because of the interruption of communications and the eliminating of contact entirely when the various outposts were overwhelmed, the Navy Department cannot have absolute information of the exact status of all individuals who were serving in the armed forces and of civilians who were engaged on public works undertakings.

"However, from information that had been available up to the time or near the time of the capture of some of the groups, and from rosters of presonnel serving at different places," the Navy continued, "it is presumed that those not otherwise accounted for are prisoners of the Japanese."

Other facts about U. S. prisoners in Japan on Pages 10, 20, 21,

Both the State Department and the American Red Cross plunged into a study of the prisoners' plight. State Department spokesmen said that no consideration is being given now to immediate exchange of war prisoners between America and Japan.

Japan, they said, has agreed to provisions of the Geneva convention and the International Red Cross pact. These call for the exchange of sick, wounded and medical personnel prisoners.

EXCHANGE DIFFICULT

The Japanese have not assented to any proposals covering exchange of other prisoners, according to the State Department. Transportation problems, officials explained,

BUY BONDS FOR BOMBERS

9500 FILLING STATION WORKERS JOIN DRIVE TO KEEP 'EM FLYING

Boston Evening American Photo

ENDORSEMENT—Frederick H. Moore, executive secretary of the Retail Gasoline Dealers' Ass'n, Inc., of Massachusetts, dictates letter endorsing the Buy Bonds for Bombers drive to Marcella M. Patch.

Into the BUY BOMBERS WITH BONDS drive today swung the men who work in the 9500 filling stations of Massachusetts.

It takes gasoline to KEEP 'EM FLYING!

It takes the men at the pumps to keep flowing the gasoline that operates the motors and turns the wheels necessary for the defense effort at home and the work of the combat men in the field.

And all that takes money—which is why the Boston Daily Record-American and Sunday Advertiser launched the Massachusetts BUY BOMBERS WITH BONDS AND STAMPS drive, in co-operation with the Treasury Department.

CAMPAIGN PRAISED

The Retail Gasoline Dealers' Ass'n, Inc. of Massachusetts, with headquarters at 1105 Commonwealth ave., Allston, notified the BUY-A-BOMBER EDITOR at 5 Winthrop sq., today that they would allocate now at least $25,000 to the BOMBER FUND.

Before the month is up, said Frederick H. Moore, executive secretary, the members of his organization expect to double that figure.

In his letter to the BUY-A-BOMBER EDITOR, Secretary Moore wrote:

"May I at this time express to you my sincere congratulations on the 'Buy A Bomber' campaign, conducted by the Boston Record-American, Sunday Advertiser.

"You are bringing to the minds of the citizens of Massachusetts, 'The Cradle of Liberty,' the realization of the importance of purchasing Defense Bonds and Stamps.

"It is but one of the many manifestations of patriotic fervor that has always been the policy of your newspapers.

"The members of the Retail Gasoline Dealers' Ass'n have, I am free to say, bought a goodly sum already. For the duration of your drive we anticipate at least $25,000 or more will be spent for the purchase of Defense Bonds.

PART OF DRIVE

"Today the Association started to contact, personally, every one of the 9500 gasoline stations throughout the state, urging them to participate in the buying of Bonds and Stamps.

"I have no doubt that a substantial amount will be netted the United States Treasury by you and your associates at the end of the campaign."

Therefore, when the filling station man fills your tank and

PARENTS FIGHT TO BAR GIRL SUICIDE SORORITY

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Feb. 19 — High school sororities, their blackballing and other "undemocratic" adolescent cruelties were targets of attack today by fearful but angry parents here following the suicide of a pretty 17-year-old high school senior.

"Emotional distress caused by blackballing of two sisters" was the official reason pronounced by Dr Amos O. Squire, Westchester County medical examiner, for the gunshot suicide of Miss Ruth Murray Livingston.

Ruth shot herself after she learned her sister Phyllis, 15, was to be blackballed by Beta Pi Mu, one of three sororities at White Plains High School.

MOTHER JOINS FIGHT

Although a member of the select group of 36 herself, Ruth last year saw the sorority blackball Bernice, her 16-year-old sister.

Neither Bernice nor Phyllis worried about the snobbish ban but Ruth was intensely interested in having her sisters join the exclusive set she was so active in. The undemocratic act hurt her to such an extent she took her own life.

These facts were reviewed today as parents vowed to break up every sorority and fraternity in the fashionable high school.

Leading the movement is Mrs. James W. Livingston, mother of Ruth, who put aside her own grief to spare other mothers similar sorrow.

GIRL IDOLIZED SORORITY

Fighting back tears and retaining her composure with great effort, Mrs. Livingston said:

"I want to help prevent this kind of thing from happening to some other mother and child.

"Ruth's whole life was woven around sororities. She was normal and intelligent but she lived in a world of her own, based chiefly on sorority activities."

Looking straight ahead and with quivering lips, the grief-stricken mother added:

"I blame myself and other foolish parents like me for this awful thing."

Rallying behind Mrs. Livingston in the battle to smash the snobbish little cliques were many civic groups, two of which will meet tomorrow night to consider further action.

ANOTHER GIRL BARRED

Mrs. George Benneyan, mother of four children and president of the Parent-Teacher Ass'n of the school, revealed her own 17-year-old daughter had been blackballed.

Ironically, the sorority refusing membership of her daughter was one of which Mrs. Benneyan was president when she was a student at the school in 1915.

She warned no move to suppress the groups can be successful unless "every parent of school children back the move."

"Sororities today are strictly social groups," declared Mrs. Benneyan. "What goes on at their meetings I don't know, but I'm sure they don't improve their culture."

FOUGHT BY PRINCIPAL

The tragic death of Miss Livingston was the very thing Principal Frank H. Nye feared three years ago, he said today as he told of his efforts then to ban sororities.

"I wanted to avoid placing emotional strain upon some girl or boy who might not get a bid and perhaps act as Ruth did," he said.

He barred the "sisters" and "brothers" from marching in groups on the football field and their notices were banned from the Oracle, school paper. He denied permission for the cliques to wear special costumes and today only small pins of societies can be worn in the school.

Nevertheless, Nye said, the groups flourished off the school grounds where he had no jurisdiction and boys and girls were answerable only to their parents.

Miss Cleo Richardson, girls' guidance director at the school, admitted "there is no way to stop students from joining societies if they are tapped for membership."

Skin blemishes resulted in a blackball for pretty, blonde Beverly Marcy, 16.

"I was pledged but had some skin blemishes," Beverly said. "They told me 'you aren't the sorority type.'"

Shirley Fulton, a classmate of Ruth, dropped out of Kappa Gamma sorority after "I found out a lot of things and didn't care whether I belonged or not."

Despite the hue and cry caused by Ruth's desperate act, Nye said, clubs in the school refused to quit issuing bids. He said the presidents of all sororities and fraternities were asked to postpone issuance of bids for membership for the present.

Nye also said many parents claimed the groups "bring the children into society" and "help the children find themselves." He estimated over 200 of the school's 2000 students belong to Greek letter societies.

The controversy broke into the open immediately following Ruth's funeral, which was attended by hundreds of the girl's classmates, teachers, parents . . . and sorority members.

The suicide of Ruth Livingston (pictured), who shot herself with her own hunting rifle, today was laid to the fact that she learned four companions at a White Plains (N. Y.) high school planned to "blackball" her younger sister, Phyllis, from a school sorority. As a result, an effort is being made to ban sororities and fraternities from the school.

Civic Leaders Seek Ban on Sororities

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Feb. 19 (AP)—Civic organizations in this suburban town mobilized today to act on fraternities and sororities in the White Plains high school after a girl student committed suicide because her sister was to be blackballed.

The North Broadway City Ass'n and the Ridgeview Congregational Church Parent Guidance Group sent resolutions to the board of education demanding the ban on Greek letter societies be enforced.

Mrs. Sylvanus Purdy, chairman of the civic section of the Contemporary Club, a woman's organization, called a meeting of civic organizations for tomorrow.

She said she wanted the consensus of civic organizations upon whether Gerek letter societies were undesirable, and if so what should be done.

Organizations invited included the Parent-Teacher Ass'n, the University Club, the College Club, the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., Y. M. H. A., Ministers' Ass'n and Boy and Girl Scouts.

Ruth Livingston committed suicide last Friday. Her mother said the girl shot herself when she learned her 15-year-old sister, Phyllis, was to be blackballed.

STIMSON SEES ATTACKS ON COAST LIKELY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19 (AP)—Secretary of War Stimson said today that the nation should expect attacks "all along our coasts and other places" like the raids made by submarines on the Netherlands Caribbean island of Aruba.

The Secretary urged at a press conference that the country be prepared also for pressure, from "thoughtless persons," to scatter defensive forces to meet such attacks.

"Yielding to that pressure would be the surest way I know of to lose the war," Stimson said.

Victory will be won, he declared, by massing our forces to carry the war to the enemy.

He gave assurances that urgent preparations were being made now for offense.

Noting criticism which he said had been voiced for failure of the United Nations to seize the initiative, Stimson promised that "we will seize every opportunity for counterattack and the offensive, and every opportunity for surprise."

Stimson announced that 90,441 volunteers joined the Army in January, more than doubling the record of any month before Pearl Harbor or in the first World War.

"This shows the men who are going to fight this war are not yielding to the defeatism or despair we sometimes hear of back of the fighting fronts," Stimson said.

He announced at the conference that three historic divisions had been ordered into active service and that a battalion of Filipinos living in the Untied States had been formed as a part of the Army's speedy expansion.

SELECTEES TO DIVISIONS

To speed the expansion of land forces, he said, men would be assigned to the new divisions almost immediately after their induction, eliminating the 13 weeks of basic training normally undertaken at replacement training centers. The basic training will be provided in the divisions themselves.

The divisions ordered into service, on March 25, are the 77th, 82d, and 90th Infantry divisions, of the organized reserves, which since their demobilization after the First World War have existed only in skeleton form.

The 77th, made famous in 1918 by the episode of the "lost battalion," will be assembled and trained at Ft. Jackson, S. C., with Major-General Robert I. Eichelberger commanding.

The 82d Division, which in the World War included Sergeant Alvin York, will train at Camp Claiborne, La. Major-General Omar N. Bundy was assigned to command it.

TRAIN IN TEXAS

The 90th Division will train at Camp Barkeley, Tex., and be commanded by Major-General Henry Tterrell, Jr. It was known as the "Alamo Division," in 1917-18 because its members came from Texas and Oklahoma.

Stimson also announced that the National Guard's 18 large square divisions would be reorganized into smaller, streamlined, triangular divisions, to conform with other such units of the armed forces.

(This includes the 26th Division of New England.)

The three new reserve divisions ordered into service are the first of 27 reserve divisions to be called out in expanding the Army this year to 3,600,000 men.

The Filipinos will form the first Filipino infantry battalion, and will be stationed at Camp San Luis Obispo, Cal.

PUBLIC WARNED TO SAVE OIL OR FACE FUEL RATIONING

Oil dealers and members of the Massachusetts Public Safety Committee joined today in a new warning to the public to reduce consumption of fuel oil immediately, as only a limited supply remains on hand in the state.

Otherwise a cold spell may force rationing of oil, warned Francis Lee Higginson, chairman of the public safety division on supplies. Officials agreed that the fuel situation is much more critical than that of gasoline.

Meanwhile, William P. Wharton of Groton, president of the Forest and Park Ass'n., urged woodlot owners to clear forest lands of hurricane debris, much of which is ideal for fuel now. He warned, however, that demand for fuel should not force men to damage woodlots by cutting young and growing trees.

Clyde G. Morill, executive director of the Oil Men's Ass'n, announced that all suppliers of fuel oil had been instructed that deliveries for domestic heating must be restricted immediately.

A delivery will not be made when the stock on hand exceeds 20 per cent of the capacity of the tank or tanks at the point of delivery, under the order.

It is recommended that thermostats be turned down 10 degrees at night, that the setting be reduced in the daytime also and that radiators and registers be adjusted to get proper allocation of heat. Air should be kept humid, and the opening of doors and windows to cool rooms be avoided, with radiators turned off instead. Bedroom doors should be shut at night, fireplace flues kept closed when not in use, doors and windows weatherstripped and unused rooms shut off.

OWN GREED TO LICK JAPS

By AUSTEN LAKE

The pattern which the thus-far victorious Japanese are following in the Far East is identical with the pattern which Adolf Hitler has pursued in Europe, i. e., to grab all, keep on grabbing, hold fast and let the future take care of itself.

Thus, Japan, having gobbled the Archipelagos of the South China Sea at a speed which exceeded her fondest hope, finds that its voracious appetite is sharpened for more and still MORE conquests.

So it was with Hitler in Europe.

The Jap and the German pattern has been a reciprocal exchange of ideas. Hitler copied Tokyo's scheme of striking treacherously while professing peace. The Jap was the original copyright owner of this system, and Hitler the copiest.

Japan then borrowed Hitler's scheme of ruthless, inhuman aggression, gambling on all-out striking power and a continued forward sweep to the limit of momentum. There are signs that such momentum has stopped for Hitler. But not yet for Japan, whose maniacal frenzy will prompt it to keep on and on, westward into Ind'- and southward in Australia.

Hitler, temporarily at least, has met his Russia. And Japan, in India's and Australia's huge areas and enormous populations, may meet its ebb tide after a stiff and costly attack which will stretch its manpower thinly and exhaust its channel of supplies.

Japan, like a tiger that has tasted human blood, is certain to go conquest-crazy as did Hitler—and before him Napoleon, the Roman Caesars, Alexander, Attila, Ghengis Khan and every major war lord in history.

The penalty in this vast, macabre game has always been over-extended strength and ultimate inability to hold the gains. Greed has always ended by devouring itself.

NO HISTORIC PARALLEL

Yet here is a world situation which has no equal in the past. Never before have two conqueror-nations played the game of winner-take-all simultaneously from opposite ends of the earth.

Thus far Japan and Nazi Germany have timed their team work well. By striking at democracy's back door Japan relieved Nazi pressure in Libya and Russia. But what of team work for the coming spring?

There are two possibilities for Japan plan of campaign during the early part of 1942.

1—To plunge onward against India and Australia with her full might before American aid can be marshalled in sufficient force.

2—To collaborate with Hitler by attacking Russia through its back door of Siberia while Germany resumes its full mechanized drive in the East.

Which way? Unquestionably Hitler is holding out promise of vast rewards for Jap assistance against Russia next May. Quick defeat of Germany's chief antagonist, he is probably telling Tokyo, will mean swift aid to Japan in its later assault on India. With Russia out of the way Hitler could send his janissaries through Iran and strike from the West while Japan strikes from the East.

And undoubtedly Hitler has drafted a world map to tempt the Japs, showing how he will cede the rich lands of Asia to Tokyo while reserving the richest parts of Europe and Africa for himself—a gigantic poker game in which England and the United States will furnish the blue chips.

JAPS DISTRUST HITLER

Japan is certain to place little faith in Hitler's promises. Japan, considering which of the two options serves her interest best, knows that by diverting so huge a section of her manpower and so large a quantity of materials as will be needed on the Siberian front, that she will be stretching her lines perilously thin at a time when the United States will be mustering her full might.

The Jap line now is stretched more than 4000 miles from the northernmost tip of Manchuria to the southernmost edge of Java, and there is no passive point along that front. And she knows, too, that Russian territory at Vladivostok is a scant 500 miles from the Jap mainland, while the peninsula of Kamchatka lies 1000 miles north. Both would make excellent bombing bases for American and Russian planes.

So, as an imperial nation with an individualistic greed and a headstrong government, Japan will probably decide to serve her own ambition first by paralyzing, if possible, England in India.

U. S. POWER ON WAY

She realizes that ultimately the United States will gather its huge forces of warships and planes for its deferred power play. Therefore whatever spring plowing is to be done must be accomplished where the promise of fruitful return is greatest.

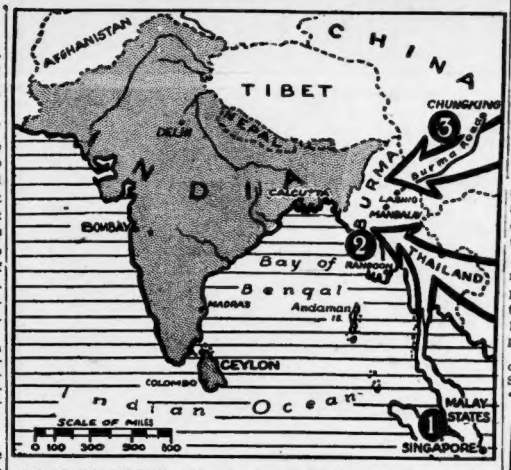
That promise seems to be in the Pacific, the Indian Ocean, and the China Seas where, while the Japanese navy controls those waters, as she does at the moment, she controls the land adjacent thereto. Part of that land is India where the thin, red line of British soldiery has been bled to the danger limit and where the Indian population is impatient.

So the chances are that Japan has bitten off all that it cares to chew in its southern Asiatic campaign and will decide to let Germany work out its own salvation against Russia. There is too much risk in barren Siberia. India, with its untold, fabulous wealth offers too tantalizing a lure.

A consolidation of the materially rich archipelago of the China Seas, where it is attacking the last Indies strongholds at Sumatra and Java, and the remaining corner of the MacArthur held Philippines, will feed and supply her empire—if she can hold them.

Japan knows where her prospect of plunder lies.

India is next.



ROAD TO RICHES—War Analyst DeWitt MacKenzie says the Japs are claiming the fall of Singapore (1) has opened the road to India, land of riches. Success of the current Jap thrust at Burma (2) and that of a possible push (3) to the Burma Road would be the entering wedge for India.

41 CITIES AND TOWNS PLAN JOINT BLACKOUT

Spurred by the success of the Boston blackout, defense officials in communities throughout the State today planned similar tests, with a joint blackout in the 41 cities and towns in the Metropolitan area scheduled for some time within a month.

The latter, to be the most complete yet attempted in the nation, will be carefully worked out, with each city and town holding an individual test prior to the night selected.

Joseph M. Loughlin, acting regional director for New England civilian defense, urged the big blackout, together with J. Wells Farley, director of the Massachusetts Public Safety Committee, after all observers commented on the brilliance of surrounding communities while Boston was cloaked in darkness.

Among those who commented on the need of "acking out entire regions were Mayor LaGuardia of New York and Gov. Saltonstall immediately after they had witnessed the Hub's successful demonstration.

MARION IS NEXT

Meanwhile cities and towns throughout the state went forward with blackout plans 11 towns already scheduling tests.

The first of these will come Sunday at Marion on Cape Cod, to last from 8:30 to 9:30 p. m. Others officially approved by the State Public Safety Committee are: Feb. 23, Hingham, 9 to 9:20; Feb. 24, Newton, 9 to 9:30; Feb. 25, Worcester, 9 to 9:30, and Hudson, 9 to 9:20; Feb. 26, one of the most extensive to date, when Peabody, Hamilton, Beverly, Topsfield, Danvers, Boxford, Ipswich, Wenham and Manchester, will go black simultaneously from 9 to 9:20.

In announcing plans for a blackout soon for the whole of Metropolitan Boston, Director Farley said:

"We are anxious to blackout Region 5, including 41 cities and towns. This area has a population of 431,734 families, or nearly a third of the population of the state.

"The various communities should hold blackouts separately to try it out, and then the entire region can stage a test. We find that communities are showing increasing interest daily and are eager to co-operate."

Defense heads of surrounding cities and towns have been invited to confer and complete plans for tests which will eventually become state-wide. The present goal is a complete blackout from the seaboard to the Berkshires.

A new mechanical device to reduce traffic lights to inconspicuous slits in order to conform to blackouts and guard against possible aid to enemy planes will be tested tomorrow by the Massachusetts committee on public safety on two busy highways, Executive Director Farley announced yesterday.

The masks or "blinders" have been installed on Route 128 within the Needham, Dedham and Canton area, and on Route 2 on the Concord turnpike.

Director Farley cautioned motorists using the test highways to slow down to 10 miles on approaching intersections, to obatain correct vision of the narrow discs. If found practicable, the masks will be installed throughout the state.

Didn't See Bullets In Gun, Whacked Bandit With Bottle

PASADENA, Cal., Feb. 19 (AP)—Emmett Quinn, clerk in a drug store, called in police, pointed to a man he had felled with a whiskey bottle, and related:

"He said: 'This is a holdup.' I looked down the barrel of his gun and didn't see any bullets, so I knocked it out of his hand, grabbed the bottle and subdued him. It was nothing—the pistol wasn't loaded."

One of the policemen examined the gun. It held five cartridges.

Saltonstall, Tobin Denied New Autos

Appeals by Gov. Saltonstall and Mayor Tobin for purchase of new family cars for which arrangements had been made previous to Jan. 1 have been turned down by the state rationing board, it was learned today.

Gov. Saltonstall said that he had spoken to his dealer several months ago and had been promised that a car would be ready for him after the first of the year.

However, no down payment was made and the board, which was appointed by the Governor, found that the regulations controlling the release of "frozen" cars demand a pervious financial agreement.

Both men had appealed from decisions against them made by the Suffolk County Rationing Board.

NEW BOSTON DRAFT SIGNERS TOTAL 42,879

With hundreds of students registering under the third draft call, Boston's draft board 17 in the Back Bay signed 3339 men, highest total of any board in the state, during the selective service registration period of Feb. 15 and 16, it was announced today.

Throughout the state, 273,164 men from 20 to 45 years of age responded to the draft call. Boston's total registration was 42,879, highest of any city.

There were 494,582 registered in the first group, draft for men 21-35, and 23,968 21-year-olds in the second, bringing total registration for selective service in the State to 791,714 since passage of the selective service act.

Worcester was second in number registered with 12,741 recorded in the 20-45 group, while Springfield followed closely with 11,175, and Cambridge had 8059 and Fall River followed with 7237.

Rare Coconut Pearl Given Florida Man

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 19 (AP)—A perfect pearl was formed within a coconut, a rare wonder of nature, is on display here to invited guests of Dr. David Fairchild.

It is of exactly the same chemical structure as an oyster pearl, said the founder of Fairchild Tropical Gardens, except that "it is formed up in the sunshine of a treetop instead of the slime and mud of an ocean bed."

Dr. Fairchild said an admiring Chinese copra buyer presented the pearl to him in February, 1940, when he was on an expedition in Gorontala, the Celebes, Dutch East Indies.

He estimated there were no more than 20 or 25 in the world, with most of them in the possession of Dutch ship captains.

Dr. Fairchild said he visited a coconut processing plant in the Celebes.

"In 15 years this plant had opened hundreds of millions of coconuts to dry or shred the ment," he related, "and had never seen a pearl. That illustrates their rarity."

Returning to the United States, Dr. Fairchild uncovered scientific papers by Dr. F. W. T. Hunger, who had made a world search for a coco-pearl and discovered one inside a coconut.

"Dr. Hunger discovered the probable cause of the marvelous formation," said Dr. Fairchild. "Everybody knows that a coconut has three eyes. If that nut contains an embryo, the young plant cannot emerge. In some strange way, Dr. Hunger believes, it begins a chemical action which builds up layer after layer of carbonate of lime—the pearl."

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour 2 pints of bile juice into your bowels every day. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food may not digest. It may just decay in the bowels. Then gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. You feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these 2 pints of bile flowing freely to make you feel "up and up." Get a package today. Take as directed. Effective in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills, 10¢ and 25¢.

Navy Yard to Launch 2 Ships, Get Award

The Boston Navy Yard will stage a double celebration tomorrow afternoon with the launching of two destroyers and the acceptance of the Bureau of Ships flag and the "E" pennant awarded "in recognition of your outstanding results in the production of ships vital to our war effort."

The ceremony will open with the launching of the destroyers, the U. S. S. Hutchins and the U. S. S. Guest. Minutes after the newest fighting ships have slipped down the ways the keels of two more destroyers, the U. S. S. Hudson and the U. S. S. Charatte, will be laid and their construction begun.

The trophy for excellence then will be presented to the management and employes of the yard and the "E" buttons, emblematic of their part in outstanding shipbuilding performance, given each of the personnel.

CHECK FOR NAVY FUND

Adding color to the occasion the employes will present a check for $15,000 to the Navy Relief Society Fund, a portion of the total employes have raised voluntarily for the fund.

The presentation will be made on behalf of the employes by Miss Ellen E. Kearns, treasurer of the Navy Yard United War Fund, President's Ball and Navy Relief Fund. It will be received by Mrs. W. T. Tarrant, wife of Rear Admiral W. T. Tarrant, commandant of the First Navy District and of the Navy Yard. Mrs.

GRANDDAUGHTER SPONSOR

The U. S. S. Hutchins is named in honor of the late Lieutenant Carleton B. Hutchins, U. S. N., and Mrs. Carleton B. Hutchins of Coronado, Calif., will christen the vessel named for her husband.

The U. S. S. Guest is named for the late Captain John Guest, U. S. N. Mrs. Ann Guest Walsh of Annapolis, will sponsor the vessel named in honor of her grandfather.

The Bureau of Ships Flag and "E" pennant will be presented by Rear Admiral George H. Rock, U. S. N. (Retired).

In recognition of the outstanding honor paid the Navy Yard, Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox wrote Admiral Tarrant:

"Let me take this opportunity to thank you for the splendid services the Boston Navy Yard is rendering both the fleet and the nation and to extend my personal congratulations for the distinction which the yard has won. It is an achievement of which you may be justly proud."

SAILOR GETS WAIVER, WED, HAS HONEYMOON IN 18 HOURS

A pretty 21-year-old Newton miss and her sailor sweetheart today will get a license, obtain a waiver of the five-day law, marry and have a honeymoon, all within 18 hours.

The quick-moving couple, Priscilla Choquette of 7 Faxon st., Newton, and Petty Officer Leonard W. Jorgensen, 22, of Iowa, must hurry, since the sailor has only 18 hours liberty from his ship now in Boston harbor.

Miss Choquette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Choquette, said she met Jorgensen when he was visiting Boston several years ago. They kept up a mail romance awaiting the day when the seafaring youth could get to Boston to marry her.

Woburn Police Chief Faces Injunction Plea

Charles R. McCauley, police chief of Woburn, was given until tomorrow to show cause in Middlesex Probate Court why an injunction brought by Peter J. Donahue, a Woburn garage man, should not be issued against him.

Donahue alleged before Judge George F. Leary that the police head was interfering with his business by inducing customers to cancel orders for towing and other services and recommending another garage. He sought to restrain the chief from this alleged interference.

GIRL, 4, WHISPERS CHOICE TO JUDGE, BACK WITH MAMA

Little Margaret Ann, 4-year-old daughter of Mrs. Mary Nicholas, 25, today was off with her mother for a new life in New Hampshire after a custody award given by Judge John V. Mahoney in Suffolk Probate Court.

The child apparently decided her own case, for she whispered her wishes into the ear of Judge Mahoney at the conclusion of action, in which her custody was sought by Mrs. Annie Irvin of Spring st., Jamaica Plain, who had been boarding the little girl while her mother was unemployed.

Judge Mahoney called Margaret to the bench after her mother had testified she had been unable to regain her from Mrs. Irvin. She said she had remarried and that her husband was anxious to adopt the child.

Margaret Ann, dressed in pink sweater and play overalls, climbed the steps to the bench and smilingly answered the judge's questions. She said she was a "good little girl"; that she didn't go to school yet and that Santa Claus had been good to her last Christmas.

"Do you love your mother?" Judge Mahoney asked, and when Margaret Ann did not answer, he continued: "Did anyone tell you what to say to me?"

The little girl then whispered to the judge and, after hearing her story, he chatted and laughed with her and sent her back to the witness seats.

"I order this child given into the custody of the mother right here and now," Judge Mahoney said.

would make an exchange between America and Japan particularly difficult at this time.

Opinion among experts was that Japan, through conquest of the Philippines, apparently hopes to free a multitude of its own subjects imprisoned by the United States. The upshot of Japan's attitude, they concluded, indicates that the Japs now would quibble over any move designed for a fast exchange of war prisoners.

The Red Cross, meanwhile, announced that every effort is being made to obtain definite information from the Japanese government as to the number, whereabouts and condition of the American captives.

There was no indication in the Navy report where the captured Americans are being held nor the kind of treatment being given them. Military experts conjectured, however, that the war prisoners possibly were removed to Formosa or southern Japan.

One military commentator said that as far as is known they have not been subjected to unduly harsh treatment.

"It is reasonable to believe they have not been tortured," he said, "but it is folly to think their lives are filled with sweetness and light."

The American prisoners, in all probability, are fed a diet of rice and fish. Vegetables, such as bamboo sprouts, which now are in season in Japan, probably are included, experts asserted.

The Japanese, however, are not regarded among military men as being excessively kind to their war prisoners.

LIST OF OFFICERS

Among the Navy officers serving at Guam when the island was captured by the Japanese Dec. 12 were the governor, Capt. George Johnson McMillin, Youngstown, O.; Capt. William Taylor Lineberry, Colerain, N. C., and Comdr. Donald Theodore Giles, Annapolis, Md.

NAVAL AT WAKE

Heading the 11 officers and 63 men serving at Wake were Comdr. Winfield Scott Cunningham, Long Beach, Cal., and Comdr. Campbell Keene, naval air station, San Diego, Cal.

NAVAL AT PEIPING

Comdr. Leo Cromwell Thyson, Washington, D. C., was one of four officers and 11 men stationed at Peiping; Lieut. (JG) William Thomas Foley, Flushing, N. Y., and five enlisted men were serving at Tientsin, and three lieutenants junior grade were serving at Shanghai. They were George Theodore Ferguson, Wausau, Wis.; Robert W. McElrath, Murray, Ky., and James Stephen O'Rourke, Washington, D. C.

MARINES AT WAKE

The Marine garrison of 413 at Wake Island was commanded by James Patrick S. Devereux, Chevy Chase, Md., and included three majors in the Marine Corps aviation branch—George Hubbard Potter and Henry T. Elrod of Honolulu, and Paul Putnam, Coronado, Cal.

MARINES AT GUAM

Lieut.-Col. William Kirk MacNulty, San Francisco, was in command of the seven Marine officers and 147 men serving at Guam. Maj. Donald Spicer, Coronado, Cal., also stationed at Guam.

MARINES AT PEIPING

Among the seven officers and 132 men serving at Peiping were Col. William S. Ashurst, San Diego, Cal., and Maj. Edwin P. McCaulley, Ontario, Cal.

At Tientsin the three officers and 52 men included Maj. Luther A. Brown, Auburn, Pa., and Capt. John A. White, Dayton, O.

BISHOP THOMAS WADE
Remains on Island

R. I. Bishop Braves Japs On Isle Post

SYDNEY, Australia, Feb. 19 (AP)—Bishop Thomas Wade of Providence, R. I., apostolic vicar of the Solomon Islands, refused to leave Kieta, the capital, with other residents even though a Japanese warship stood outside its undefended harbor, the Sydney Sun reported today.

Bishop Wade, who previously had sent 30 missionary nuns into the interior for safety, the newspaper's correspondent reported, said he would don his clerical robes, meet the invaders and ask them to respect religion.

The correspondent said some American nuns, most of them physicians, had conducted a mission in northern Bougainville, also in the island group northeast of Australia, until recently and presumably still were there.

Refugees from Kieta who reached Port Moresby said it was occupied Jan. 25 by the crew of a Japanese seaplane after most of its civilians had left.

Bishop Wade had served in the Solomon Islands for 13 years before he went to Rome in 1935 to present his first adlimina report to the late Pope Pius XI.

He said then that his occupational hazards were cannibalism, malaria and the perils of travel among coral reefs.

Before Bishop Wade entered the priesthood he was a jewelry designer in Providence.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS ACIDS

Help 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes to Flush Out Poisonous Waste

If you have an excess of acidsin your blood, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may be overworked. These tiny filters and tubes are working day and night to help Nature rid your system of excess acids and poisonous waste.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Kidneys may need help the same as bowels; so ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

182 JAP SHIPS KNOWN SUNK OR DAMAGED

BATAVIA, NEI, Feb. 19 (AP)—A total of 182 Japanese ships had been sunk or damaged by the United Nations forces up to Feb. 14, according to an authoritative compilation published today by Aneta, official Dutch news agency.

Of the total, 109 were sunk, 28 probably sunk and 45 damaged. The number did not include the heavy losses known to have been inflicted on the enemy in the invasion of southern Sumatra, started Saturday.

American ships and planes were credited with 84 of the known sinkings, 15 of the probables and 28 of the damaged ships, and NEI forces with 24 sinkings, six probables and 11 ships damaged.

The recapitulation follows:

BATTLESHIPS—Two probably sunk, two damaged.

CRUISERS—Seven sunk, four probably sunk, 11 damaged.

DESTROYERS—13 sunk, three probably sunk, two damaged.

AIRCRAFT CARRIERS—One sunk, two probably sunk, one damaged.

SUBMARINES—Six sunk, one probably sunk, one damaged.

TRANSPORTS—83 sunk, 12 probably sunk, 23 damaged.

CARGO VESSELS and Auxiliaries—23 sunk, four probably sunk, three damaged.

TANKERS—Seven sunk, two damaged.

"Numerous minor vessels of all types" were not included.

Audience Angered As Villain Slashes Tire in New Movie

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 19 (AP)—Jeers of a preview audience changed a scene in this movie, and pronto.

The villain slipped into a garage and slashed Actor John Shelton's tire to delay pursuit. The audience howled its disapproval.

When the picture is released, Shelton will discover the tire damaged—but audiences won't see it slashed.

The tire cost only $1.75 at a junk yard and couldn't be used but it looked plenty okay to rubber-conscious movie fans.

Japanese assault on central island of Java.

Dutch land forces, having abandoned Palembang in southern Sumatra about 270 miles from Batavia itself, are continuing stubborn fighting against the invaders.

Thus the week-end destruction of $500,000,000 worth of oil, gasoline, refining and transport facilities and other property in the Palembang area when Japanese parachutists assaulted it last Saturday was not the signal for abandonment of southern Sumatra, but rather a prelude to re-drawing the battleline for the southernmost tip of the 1000-mile long island, which is separated only by Sunda strait from Java itself.

JAPS PAY HIGH PRICE

Today's communique of the Netherlands Indies armed forces said concisely of the Sumatra fighting.

"The action against the enemy which landed at Palembang continues."

The Japanese, meanwhile, continued their aerial harassment, and reconnaissance of Java and other parts of the N. E. I., but at a heavy cost.

The communique also reported an enemy air raid today on an air field in western Java which caused "some damage."

Simultaneously with yesterday's attack on the United Nations naval base at Soerabaja, in which the Japanese lost five bombers of a force of 24 raiding planes, an air field in East Java was machine-gunned, the communique said.

Dutch anti-aircraft batteries scored hits on four of the attacking fighter planes "without certainty that they were shot down."

STATE PAYS TRIBUTE TO MAJ. GEN. FISH

Gov. Saltonstall today led civic and military leaders of the state in paying tribute to Maj.-Gen. Erland F. Fish, 58, commander of the Massachusetts State Guard, and for five years commander of the 26th Yankee Division, who died of a skull fracture suffered when run down by a taxicab near his home.

On learning of Gen. Fish's death, Gov. Saltonstall issued the following statement:

"A courageous, independent, kindly friend and public servant has left us. We shall miss him at a time when we need men of his type to lead us. He was a man whom I respected and liked as a fellow legislator for many years."

The general died at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital without regaining consciousness following the auto mishap. A taxicab struck him as he stepped from a streetcar on Commonwealth ave. near Cottage Farm bridge, while he was on his way to his home in Prescott st., Brookline.

Gen. Fish had made a reputation as a military and political leader. At one time he was secretary to the late Supreme Court Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes. He had been Republican whip of the State Senate for many years and served as its president.

Upon the death of Gen. Fish, Brig.-Gen. Thomas F. Foley of Worcester, senior officer of his rank, automatically became temporary commander of the State Guard. He will serve until Gov. Saltonstall appoints a permanent commander.

"He was a very nice burglar," she said. "He was polite. He looked ill."

Mrs. Vanderbilt appeared at the police property clerk's office to reclaim the brooch which police said John Maryett admitted he had "snatched" in Beverly Hills. Maryett is awaiting trial on a charge of holding up a loan office.

Shortly before last midnight Maryett attempted suicide in his cell by slashing his left wrist with a half-dollar coin filed down to a razor-edge.

LIBERTY MUTUAL and the WAR

WORLD WAR II must be won on three fronts: the fighting front, the industrial front, the home front. On each of these, Liberty Mutual Insurance Company has clear-cut responsibilities.

THE FIGHTING FRONT. By February 1, 1942, 304 Liberty Mutual men had joined the armed forces; and many others—safety engineers and claimsmen—are making their contribution on or near the fighting fronts, working to keep vital war construction jobs moving without loss of time through accidents to skilled workers.

THE INDUSTRIAL FRONT. As its share in helping win the "battle of production," Liberty Mutual will . . .

Speed production by helping to prevent the accidents which cripple men and damage machines.

Pay claims arising from industrial accidents, thereby keeping workers and their families secure.

Speed the return of injured workers to their jobs by providing skilled medical and surgical treatment.

Assist industrial management in training new workers and upgrading men for supervisory production jobs.

THE HOME FRONT. In earlier, kindlier times, neighbors and friends joined together to help the hurt, the sick and the unfortunate over the rough spots caused by accidents, fires and storms. Each village and town was a world of its own and everyone joined together for the common good. Today, all this has changed. The machine age has increased hazards enormously; and under the impact of war, the faster tempo of living, working and moving about has multiplied the dangers which menace the safety and security of all the people. Thus the protection afforded by liability insurance has become more vital than ever—to business concerns, home owners and car owners—and Liberty Mutual will continue to strengthen its ability to serve as "Your friend . . . in the home, on the highway, where you work."

10 NEW RECRUITING STATIONS TO BOOST JUNIOR ARMY RANKS

A new boom in enrollments in the Junior Victory Army of New England is expected to result from the establishment of the first of 10 recruiting stations at the three clubhouses of the Boys' Clubs of Boston, the Y. M. C. A. and its branches and the Y. W. C. A. and its Watertown branch.

With the enrollment blanks being made available on counters or distributed to members of these organizations, the ranks of the Junior Army will be brought within reach of new hundreds of girls and boys.

Established on Feb. 1, the Junior Army now has more than 12,000 members, a striking proof of the patriotism and eager willingness of New England youth to take part in defense.

In addition to the blanks at the new enlistment stations, scores of blanks have been sent by mail to Boy Scoutleaders and to individual girls and boys throughout New England who are forming their own groups to engage in defense efforts.

SEND IN NEWS

Some of these groups are called Junior Army Clubs, while others are Junior Army Battalions and Junior Army Regiments. One group calls itself the Gen. MacArthur Bulldogs of the Junior Victory Army. Another is named the Pearl Harbor Club of the Junior Army.

These clubs are invited to report on their activities to Junior Army headquarters. News of what they are doing for defense and names of their officers will be published in the Junior Army news.

New recruiting stations will be announced from time to time. Here are the first places where boys and girls may obtain enrollment blanks:

War Dents U. S. Gold Horde

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19 (AP)—The Treasury's gold stock is diminishing, due to war transactions, but don't worry—it still has $22,735,000,000 worth, or 80 per cent of the world's monetary supply.

There have been recent sales of gold to undisclosed foreign countries, Treasury officials said. The sales were believed to have been to Latin-American nations which have been selling the United States more goods than they have been buying from this nation lately, leaving a balance with which they could buy gold.

The Treasury has not actually shipped any gold out of the country, merely transferring the paper ownership of it.

checks your oil, remember that he has joined up in the ALL-OUT DRIVE in Massachusetts to BUY BOMBERS.

He has become part of one of the most dramatic and comprehensive campaigns ever conducted in New England. He has added his weight to the big push which is expected to provide our fighting forces with THE GREATEST AIR FLEET OF ALL TIME.

The campaign, it is expected, will provide funds for the purchase of many bombers, and several of these great bombers will be suitably named in honor of Massachusetts, symbolic of this state's participation in the war which has been thrust upon us.

VICTORY INVESTMENT

The money you put up—and it is AN INVESTMENT FOR YOURSELF AS WELL AS FOR VICTORY—is a special symbol of your faith in America's destiny.

More than any other state in the Union, Massachusetts has been in the foreground of every war we have ever fought.

We have remembered Lexington and Concord. We have remembered Concord and Lexington. We have remembered the Maine.

We have remembered Pearl Harbor. All down the years!

Giving up something in order to buy Defense Stamps and Bonds is the PRIVILEGE of every Massachusetts resident in WINNING THE WAR WITH BOMBERS.

And WE CAN WIN THE WAR WITH BOMBERS—if YOU BUY BONDS AND STAMPS TODAY.

Following is a list of BONDS FOR BOMBERS allocations to date:

HELEN ALVORD

$100,000 Suit Dismissed

Blonde Model Drops $100,000 Balm Suit

The question of whether beautiful, platinum-blonde Helen Alvord, former Back Bay model, ever lived as the wife of Rogers N. Farr, 47, one-time sales executive—a question which Miss Alvord once deemed worth $100,000—must forever go unanswered.

In Suffolk Superior Court today Miss Alvord, who has since left town—leaving the scandal to die behind her—asked through her attorney that her breach of promise suit against Farr be dismissed.

The request was granted by Judge Frederic Greenhalge, thus relegating to the record books the last such suit filed before breach of promise claims were outlawed in this state on Sept. 1, 1938.

Filed in July, 1939—but allowed on the grounds the alleged promise to wed was made prior to passage of the new law—Miss Alvord's action was set for trial today.

Neither she or the defendant was in court.

Her counsel, Nathan Fink, told Judge Edward Hanify she was now in Chicagoa nd had instructed him to withdraw the suit. This was agreeable to Farr's counsel, Atty. William McCarthy, and the case was sent to a regular session, where Judge Greenhalge dismissed it.

You Can Specify Bonds Are for Bomber Drive

Individuals buying defense bonds may stipulate on the purchase application blank that their purchases are in connection with the Massachusetts Bombers' Campaign.

On the left-hand side of the green application blank, opposite where you write the name with which the bond is to be inscribed, notice the three words: "Buy for Defense." Immediately above this is a small space in which can be written "Massachusetts Bombers' Campaign." Write this only in the space described.

Individuals or firms buying either stamps or bonds in connection with the Massachusetts Bombers' drive are requested to notify these newspapers by WRITING to the BUY-A-BOMB EDITOR, 5 Winthrop sq., Boston, so that the amount representing their investment may be listed.

It is specifically requested that individual purchases be reported in writing rather than by telephone.

Blum Attack Forces Recess in War Trial

RIOM, Unoccupied France, Feb. 19 (AP)—In a dramatic outbreak today at the opening session of the French war defeat trial, former Premier Leon Blum, one of the defendants, attacked the constitutionality not only of the court but of the present government of France.

The trial was suspended immediately to permit the prosecuting attorney to prepare a reply.

Blum, the Socialist leader, pale and haughty as before the war, asked the court to declare itself unconstitutional since, he said, the Republic itself exists and under its laws only the Chamber of Deputies has a right to indict a minister while only the Senate has the right to try him.

BLUM, GAMELIN CLASH

Blum and France's on-time generalissimo, Maurice Gustave Gamelin, a co-defendant, also clashed over whether the cause of France's defeat was military or political.

Gamelin, in a preliminary statement, said that for the honor of the army and since his conscience was clear he refused to take a further part in the trial.

Pounding the table, Blum interjected that if the army were eliminated all that was left was to put the republic on trial.

Gamelin, alone of the five defendants, looked tired and ill. The other three are former Premier Edouard Daladier, former air minister Guy La Chambre and Pierre Jacomet, former administrator of national defense industries.

AXIS REPORTERS

On hand to report this strange post-mortem of France's collapse and Germany's victory was a large battery of German and other Axis correspondents while working across them was a smaller group of American correspondents. Only a handful of other spectators could squeeze in. Four American correspondents were barred from the court as the trial opened.

The text of the Gamelin declaration, vague in spots, follows:

"I have always served my country. I have decided not to participate in this trial.

"Several times I offered to resign but the resignation was not accepted.

"I have been condemned on the political plan without being able to present a defense. Today I would have to give French and foreign names and I refuse to do so.

"I wish above all that the army remain the guarantee of the independence of our country.

"I ask my two attorneys to keep silent as I do and for the same patriotic reason."

Gamelin's counsel, however, declared that the court could not condemn the aging general—that it would be unjust to make him "bear the weight of others' faults."

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 19 (AP)—Progress in air raid blackouts:

Most frequently heard remark in earlier ones: "Turn out that light!"

In last night's 20-minute blackout: "Leave that tire alone!"

The blackout, which began at 9:01, PWT, was explained by the fourth interceptor command as occasioned by the approach to the bay area of aircraft later identified as friendly.

It was the bay area's eighth of the war.

Judgment for State In Davis Case Ordered

Atty.-Gen. Robert T. Bushnell today ordered judgment of $208,516 for the state against Edgar B. Davis, formerly of Brockton, prominent oilman who was declared a loser in a court battle over his Massachusetts income tax.

The Texas court of civil appeals threw out a claim of Davis that the state owed him $1,000,000 and ruled that he owes Massachusetts $174,000, plus interest. Last June Atty.-Gen. Bushnell appeared personally in the court in Texas, where Davis now lives, in connection with the case.

Wider Income Tax Or Sales, Wage Levy

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19 (AP)—Senator George (D.) of Georgia, predicted today that Congress would be forced to broaden the base of income taxes or impose a sales or payroll levy if it hoped to increase revenues by $7,000,000,000 in the next fiscal year.

George, chairman of the Senate finance committee, already has announced his opposition to lowering the present individual income exemptions.

He said that so far as he knew the Treasury remained firmly opposed to a sales levy and had no intention of recommending a payroll tax.

George said there had been some discussion of attempting to collect income taxes on a month-to-month basis through a 15 per cent withholding levy on payrolls. By this system, he said, the government would take 15 per cent of salaries each month, the total being applied against the amount due on the regular income tax at the end of the year.

While the Georgia Senator said this would have the double virtue of putting a brake on inflationary spending and making it easier for the individual to meet his income tax bill, he pointed out that it would add nothing to total revenues.

To obtain the extra $7,000,000,000 revenue requested by President Roosevelt, treasury experts were understood to have charted a $3,000,000,000 increase in corporation levies and a boost ranging from $1,500,000,000 to $2,000,000,000 in individual income taxes. The remaining $2,000,000,000 would be obtained by plugging loopholes in the present law and by increasing and broadening excise levies.

While President Roosevelt's suggestion for an additional $2,000,000,000 in social security levies—over and above the $7,000,000,000 general tax boost—has been laid aside temporarily, George said opposition to it already was developing. He estimated that old age benefit levies of 1 per cent on employers and employes would have to be tripled to bring in that amount.

Raid Warden's Attacker Guilty

Found builty of assault and battery on an air raid warden during the blackout, Frank Yashtinsky, 31, of Barton st., West End, is scheduled for sentence tomorroy by Judge Daniel J. Gillen in municipal court.

The complainant was Max Schivek, 57, an air raid warden and Leverett st. hardware dealer, who testified that Yashtinsky, a baker, knocked him to the ground.

Yashtinsky, the witness said, clad in a white baking uniform, walked into the street, looming conspicuously in the darkness of the blackout.

"I told him, in a polite tone, to please move into the doorway, where others were standing."

Yashtinsky, according to police, said he, too, was an air raid warden, although not on duty at the time.

CHINA GETS SUPPLY ROAD FROM INDIA

CHUNGKING, Feb. 19 (AP)—War supplies for China will be moved over a new land route from India, replacing the Japanese-menaced Burma Road, a Chinese official announced today.

He said the problem of transportation of supplies from India to China had been worked out as a result of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's visit with Indian leaders.

Concrete steps were agreed upon, the official said, whereby a much larger quantity of goods than ever was carried via the Burma Road henceforth will be transported to China by way of India. Such supplies, he said, would be shipped direct to Indian ports.

The statement did not describe the exact route to be followed through India but it was known here to pass overland through northern Burma into China, involving rail, road and river transportation.

Official U. S. Communique

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19 (AP)—War Department communique, No. 114, based on reports received until 9:30 a. m., eastern war time, today, follows:

"1—Philippine theater:

"The enemy is increasing his pressure on our lines in Bataan, particularly on the right flank. Heavy enemy artillery fire continues. Japanese troop movements behind the enemy lines indicate a re-grouping of forces, preliminary to a resumption of the offensive.

"In a relatively minor local action our troops captured three pieces of enemy artillery, several flame throwers, and a quantity of ordnance and signal supplies.

"Enemy batteries on the Cavite shore continued to pound our harbor defenses, without accomplishing a great amount of damage. The fire on Ft. Frank was particularly heavy.

river line. They added that the fighting had spread along the whole front yesterday and that additional enemy reinforcements had moved up to the battle zone from Thaton.

At Chungking, a military spokesman said that large Chinese forces are entering Burma to protect the Burma road. He added:

"Although there has not yet been contact between the Chinese and Japanese in Burma, the situation is expected to be clarified shortly."

The London Daily Herald reported that 70,000 Jap troops from Malaya have reinforced the Japanese armies in Burma and that an additional 30,000 Japs have landed at Haipong, French Indo-China, en route to the Burma front.

The German radio, quoting "Japanese information" in a broadcast heard by NBC, claimed the battle of Burma will lead to Britain's withdrawal behind the Sittang River north of Pegu to prevent the British southern wing from being cut off.

CHINESE IN THAILAND

Fighting was reported developing rapidly along the Burma front and there were reports that Chinese forces had entered Thailand and were slugging their way toward Chiengmai.

At Chiengmai concentrations of Jap parachute troops and airborne infantry were attacked on Tuesday by the biggest force of British bombers ever to operate from Burma. These Jap concentrations were said to have been preparing to fly to Toungoo in an effort to cut the Burma road.

USE BICYCLE TROOPS

The Japanese in their advance toward Rangoon were reported using bicycle troops disguised in Burmese clothes and that these forces move only at night over jungle paths or close to wooded hills.

Allies Reinforce 9 Vital Pacific Areas

By MERRILL MUELLER

SOMEWHERE IN THE FAR EAST, Feb. 19 (By radio telephone to New York) (INS)—Solving a military supply and transport problem which ranks as one of the most difficult and greatest in all history, the United Nations today are rapidly reinforcing five actual combat zones and four threatened areas in the western Pacific.

And the Yanks, farthest removed, are nevertheless playing a strong part.

Australian forces, lately relieved from other commitments, are pouring into the Far East defense zone, and they shout their welcome when husky American units move into their vicinity.

ALLIED TROOPS POUR IN

I've seen veterans of the war's greatest naval engagements flowing into the Far East theater to be greeted by the cry: "Yankee, Ho!"—as they were safely and quietly convoyed into the battle zone aboard some of the world's crack liners.

Long lines of shepherded freighters—flying four or more flags—are slowly but steadily moving in with supplies that will mean eventual Allied victory.

The Dutch island of Java was like 1940 England in an Oriental setting.

The Dutch Javanese, seeing enemies succeeding on both flanks of their island home and expecting blitzes proportionately as bad as those on London, remained as sound and calm as the British.

But where England was rich with industries in the face of the enemy's assault, Java is rich only in duty.

JAVANESE GOOD FLIERS

America and England must quickly pour into Java enough guns, aircraft, tanks, ammunition and supplies to make it the bastion of the Pacific while preparing Australia as a base for counter-offensives.

Second Wife Kills Self As Did First

SMITHTOWN, N. Y., Feb. 19 (AP)—Mrs. Ruth Ryan Sanford, 24, wife of wealthy, socially prominent Henry Sanford, Jr., died today of a bullet wound. Coroner Grover Silliman said she committed suicide.

She was Sanford's second wife. His first wife, Mrs. Rose Davis Sanford, shot and killed herself in May, 1938.

Dr. Frank E. R. McGilvery, who attended the second Mrs. Sanford, said she shot herself under the heart late yesterday. He could ascribe no motive.

He quoted her as saying:

"I've been thinking about doing this all afternoon."

At the time her husband was en route to Washington, where his father, Henry, Sr., lives.

The Sanfords have a daughter, Susan, one. Sanford had two children by his previous marriage, a son and a daughter.

At the time of the first Mrs. Sanford's suicided, the family said that illness of the son had caused the mother to be despondent.

Sanford occupies himself with sports and the management of his estate, Brookshot, on Harbor road, here. A 1933 graduate of William College, he is a grandson of the late Prof. Samuel Sanford, former head of the Yale Music School, and a great-grandson of Henry Sanford, former president of the Adams Express Co.

Members of the family were unable to ascribe a motive for Mrs. Sanford's act, although they said she had been brooding because her husband was seeking a commission in the marines. Sanford's father is a retired Army major.

Investigating officials said Mrs. Sanford shot herself with a gun from her husband's firearms collection as did the first Mrs. Sanford.

NAZIS RETREAT 20 MILES ON LIBYAN FRONT

CAIRO, Feb. 19 (INS)—A 20-mile "No Man's Land" separated British and Axis troops in the Libyan desert today following the withdrawal of Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's Italian and German troops at least that distance to the west, according to informed quarters.

There was "no evidence," it was said, that the sudden and unheraided withdrawal of the Axis troops was continuing today.

Military circles attributed the withdrawal to a recent disastrous air battle in which 20 Axis planes were shot down by a squadron of 18 American-made Curtiss P-40's. The American planes were piloted by RAF and Australian fliers.

So complete was the swift Axis retreat, that British patrols operating south of Mekili in the eastern Libyan desert, formerly the southern anchor of the British line, encountered no enemy opposition.

Meanwhile, in the northern sector of the former battlefront it was discovered that in a zone extending at least 20 miles west of El Gazala, formerly a scene of hostilities and the high-water mark of Rommel's recent counterattack, no enemy positions were occupied.

An RAF communique reported heavy raids against Benghazi, supply depot for Axis reinforcements moving to the front.

Dragger Total Loss On No Man's Land

NEW BEDFORD, Feb. 19—The New Bedford dragger Fannie S. today was seen as a total loss following rescue of her crew of four from No Man's Land.

The dragger ran ashore there during fog and a gale on Monday and Capt. Louis W. Salisbury of Fairhaven used flares for two nights in a vain attempt to attract attention of the Coast Guard at Gay Head. A fishing boat finally sighted them. The Fannie S. was returning with a catch when she struck.

Officials Coming Here To Plan Sugar Ration

Details of the plan for distributing sugar ration books to the public by school teachers will be worked out next week at a conference of Dr. Arthur L. Gould, superintendent of the Boston schools, with rationing authorities from Washington.

The federal officials are expected to arrive here Feb. 23 to study the local school set-up and make arrangements for every person to receive a sugar ration book of cards.

Can't Get Welder Job, Youth Takes His Life

FALL RIVER, Feb. 19—Despondency over failure to obtain a job was blamed today for the suicide of William Novitsky, 18, of Maple st., whose body was found in the cellar of his home, a bullet wound in the heart. A rifle borrowed a week ago from a chum was by his side.

Novitsky recently completed a course at a welding school, but had been unable to land a job.

NOTICE

"TO ESSO FUEL OIL CUSTOMERS In the Atlantic Seaboard Area"

The war is seriously hindering petroleum deliveries to this section. A number of tankers have been sunk. Others have been shifted to the Pacific to strengthen our armed forces there.

The submarine menace results in longer and slower tanker voyages by new routes.

In an attempt to stretch immediately available supplies to the maximum extent, the Petroleum Coordinator has approved an oil industry plan which includes the following restrictions on deliveries:

For All Commercial Use Including War Industry Plants

Deliveries Must Be Limited to 14 Days Supply

For Home-Owners and Other Heating Oil Users

A. No deliveries of domestic heating oil can be made in this area until the oil you have on hand is less than one-fifth of tank capacity.

B. When your tank is less than one-fifth full, supply may be replenished up to three-quarters of capacity of tank.

In this area, the supply is low because of lack of transportation. Gasoline and other petroleum products are also seriously affected.

Further curtailment is in prospect. To make further restrictions less severe, you can help now by conserving fuel in the following way:

—Turn thermostats down at night and when you are away from home.

—Shut off radiators in rooms you are not using.

—Close bedroom doors at night.

—Keep vents and fireplace flues closed when not in use.

We shall all have to work together if the civilian oil supply is to continue through the heating season.

We're doing OUR best to make a little go a long way and keep war production rolling.

Maybe you can't carry a gun—but you can save oil.

Won't you start right now?

Oil is ammunition—use it wisely!

CHURCHILL MAY YIELD ON CABINET; 'CHUTE ARMY MASSED

LONDON, Feb 19 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill, impressed by the firmness of House of Commons opposition to the present government, is expected to announce the entry of Sir Stafford Cripps and Capt. Oliver Lyttelton into the war cabinet before a crucial debate on the war art the next Commons session, informed sources declared today.

Sir Stafford, former ambassador to Moscow, would enter the cabinet without departmental duties, these sources said. Lyttleton, now minister representing the cabinet in the Middle East, probably will be appointed Churchill's deputy minister of defense to co-ordinate the branches of the service

Alfred Duff Cooper they predicted, would take over Lyttleton's present job.

BEAVERBROOK, EDEN OUT

The consensus in the House tonight was that a new war cabient composed of Churchill, Cripps, Clement R. Attlee, lord privy seal; Ernest Bevin, minister of labor and national service, and Lyttleton would be announced within the next 24 hours.

Lord Beaverbrook, long regarded as Churchill's first assistant, would be outside the war cabinet mainly because his job as minister of war production is the specific one of supplying the tools of war while the war cabinet deals mainly with grand strategy.

Also expected to be cut from the present war cabinet, though retaining their present departmental assignments, are Sir Kingsley Wood, chancellor of the exchequer; Arthur Greenwood, minister without portfolio; Anthony Eden, secretary for foreign affairs, and Sir John Anderson, lord president of the council.

It was expected the new war cabinet would be divorced from departmental duties, with only one job in hand—to win the war.

A new post also is expected for Sir Archibald Sinclair, now secretary of state for air. A leader of the House of Commons may be appointed to deputize for Churchill, who is expected to devote more time to direction of the war and less to defense of his policies in the house.

The British army has air-borne troops in training and parachutist forces ready now for action, Capt. H. D. R. Margesson, war secretary, announced today He declared new armored divisions have been formed and those in "the Middle East" reinforced.

Outlining this broad picture of strengthening British striking power, Margesson disclosed that many of the British troops in the ill-starred Malaya campaign had to be sent into action without time "for essential preliminary battle training."

He said, too, that because of equipment shortages and the need for older type weapons already in production, the army had been unable last fall to convert large numbers of infantry into artillery and armored units "of which we were woefully short."

Without disclosing details of the strengthening of British armored formations in a zone he described only as "the Middle East," he declared the reinforcement "process is continuing."

TRAINING 'CHUTISTS

Announcing the training of air-borne troops, Margesson said the army now has a number of "parachute and air landing units."

This was the first official announcement the British army is planning to use air-borne infantry like that which has served Germany and Japan well.

In addition, he said, a number of new armored divisions have been formed.

"We have practically completed formation of the required number of anti-tank regiments," he said, recounting the progress of the army development.

He said that in Malaya, however, British forces had been up against "hardened soldiers with four years' experience in a type of warfare with which we were totally unaccustomed."

In that ill-starred campaign, he said, there had been no time for troops to get essential preliminary battle training—often not time even for them to become accustomed to the equatorial jungle climate after their long sea voyage in cramped quarters.

Of the situation in Libya, he said the British "in some respects were at a disadvantage with the Germans" in tank warfare.

He referred to "the insidious and false suggestion" which he said is "now finding some expression in newspapers of the United States" that the British are "willing to accept arms and equipment from any and every source, but are not willing to send our soldiers out to fight with them."

"Of every 100 men killed and wounded in the land fighting in Libya since the beginning of the war," he said, "about 70 have come from this country."

Congress Pensions Fair; Timing Bad

By ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

National Woman Director of Civilian Defense

WASHINGTON, Wednesday—Yesterday, because of lack of space, I could not go more fully into the question of the bill for Congressional pensions. It seems to me fairly obvious that the principle of this bill is good. The timing may be bad, so, perhaps, it should wait until this war is over. There may be amendments which are necessary in order to prevent people from getting a pension except on an insurance basis.

It may be embarrassing to vote yourself a pension, but who else can do it? And you are voting for the future as well as the present. I think it is important to have the principle of insurance for old age established for every group of citizens, and doubly important for the public servant to be secure and, therefore, beyond temptation or threat.

I want to add this to clarify the whole situation; so much that the people are discussing today is obscured for them by the press and radio, instead of being made simple and clear.

We had a most interesting dinner here last night at which Dr. Jerome Davis and Dr. Dri Davis spoke for the YMCA work among the prisoners of war the world over. Mr. Harper Sibley presided admirably. If I may judge from my own feeling, everyone must have gone away inspired by a realization of the work which is being done, even though it may not cover the whole range of need.

THE NUMBER of prisoners behind barbed wire all over the world today is quite appalling. It did not surprise me to have both Dr. Jerome Davis and Dr. Dri Davis emphasize the fact there is such a thing called "barbed wire sickness."

To have nothing to do mentally or physically, to know that those you love are anxious about you, to be anxious about them, and yet have no way of working towards your release, must be a horrible situation. Anything that we can do for our enemy prisoners seems to me to justify itself. We have a double incentive when our permission to help the Allied prisoners of war depends upon the work done with the enemy prisoners.

A morning of work at the Office of Civilian Defense and a most interesting talk with a young doctor in the District of Columbia, who is thinking along the lines of preventative medicine. By that I mean that he believes that healthy people should have a health examination and check up every so often, so that they need not be treated as medical cases. By doing this we might easily prevent serious illness and find better habits of living will keep us in good health.

Introduction Technique

By MRS. CORNELIUS BEECKMAN

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

Isn't there something that one can correctly say instead of "How do you do" when acknowledging an introduction? I'm tired of this form. ANNE.

Well, Anne, if you are tired of this form of acknowledging an introduction, your "How do you" will sound "tired."

"How do you do" is the correct reply to an introduction. You'll always be right if you use this. If you inject personality into the words, you'll be both right and gracious.

I'll grant that these words are meaningless at the moment they are used, for at the moment of introduction you probably aren't especially concerned about how the other person "does." You don't even expect an answer.

However, it's fun to take these everyday words and make them come to life. It can be done, and is, done, by people who don't permit themselves to regard them as "worn-out."

Watch what some charming people do with this phrase. When they acknowledge an introduction, their "How do you do" glows with welcoming friendliness. The very same words—but what a world of difference in the way they say them! They are usually the people who listen attentively to get your name correctly, then add it graciously to their "How do you do."

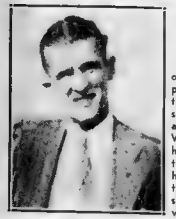
SUNDAY ADVERTISER

NEW ENGLANDERS...WAR PRISONERS OF JAPS...FROM OFFICIAL LIST



KENNETH F. WHITAKER, 33, of Roosevelt rd., Weymouth, apparently was in the hospital when the Japs captured him. The Navy sent last word of him to his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Whitaker, with whom he made his home, saying that he was in the naval hospital at Guam. He has been in the Navy 15 years, the last six of which have been spent in Guam. He held a chief water tender's rating.

JOSEPH ALBAN ALLAIN, machinist mate 1st class, of Greenwood st., Gardner; is a Navy veteran of 16 years' experience. His mother, Mrs. Joseph Allain, said her son had sailed the seven seas many times over and that she last heard from him two years ago. He has two brothers and five sisters.

ENSIGN FRANCIS JOSEPH CARNEY, 27, of Annandale rd., Newport, R. I., is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Carney and a graduate of De La Salle Academy and Manhattan College. A college athlete, starring in basketball and tennis, he has been on active service as an engineer in the naval reserve for about one year. He has two brothers, Joseph, 31; John E., who works at the Navy base at Newport, and one sister, Helen, 34.

FELIX ANTHONY COLAVECCHIO, 32, boatswain's mate first class, of Messina st., Providence, R. I., has spent 12 years in the Navy, the last two of which were served in Guam. He had made the Navy his career, married and raised a daughter. His wife, Barbara said she had a letter from him two months ago. His daughter, also named Barbara, is 5.

EDWIN MORTON CUSTER, 39, of New Boston rd., Fall River, chief pharmacist's mate, is a born Navy man. He has spent 23 years in the service, married and brought his wife and family with him wherever possible. Mrs. Custer was with him at Guam until last October, when she was evacuated with sons, Edwin, Jr., 8 and Calvin, 4. After the Jap attack, amateur radio operators relayed short war messages to her from her husband.

THOMAS ROYAL CARPENTER, 32, platoon sergeant, U. S. Marines, is the son of Mrs. Edgar Carpenter of Canton, Ct. He is a veteran leatherneck of 10 years' service. His mother already had been notified that he had been taken prisoner. She said last word from him was a letter sent Nov. 6 from Peiping, China, in which he said he expected to take the last transport out. He has a brother, Edgar, 23, who is waiting to be called in the draft, and a sister Mrs. Eleanor Talmadge of Canton.

JOHN JOSEPH MERGENTHALER, private, U. S. Marines, of Main st., Portland, Me., was cited for bravery in the defense of Wake Island. His mother, Mrs. Margaret Mergenthaler, a lovely

MYRON CHARLES, 32, storekeeper 1st class, of Shaw st., Lowell, is another Navy veteran. He joined up in 1934 and has been on duty in the Pacific for more than two years. A graduate of Lowell High School, Myron has two sisters, Esther, 25, and Barbara, 22, and one brother, Donald, 21. His mother said she last heard from him in a letter which arrived the day after the attack on Pearl Harbor.

GEORGE PICKERING, JR., 20, storekeeper third class, Meadow rd., Hingham, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Pickering. News of his capture by the Japanese was no surprise to his family because they had been notified to that effect by the Navy two weeks ago. George joined the Navy two years ago, after spending a year in a CCC camp. Oldest of five children, he wrote home Nov. 1 that he looked forward to swimming at Nantasket Beach next summer.

EARL RUSSEL JOHNSON, 21, hospital apprentice 1st class, 1 Truro st., Quincy; has spent three years in the Navy. He was last heard from by two of his brothers, Carl and Raymond, two months ago, when he reported that he was attached to the American embassy in Peking, China. His mother, Mrs. Anna Johnson, is in Florida. Russel graduated from Quincy High School. He has two other brothers, Vernon, of Los Angeles and Robert of New York.

MICHAEL NICHOLAS ECONOMU, corporal, 24, U. S. Marines, of Allen ct., St. Johnsbury, Vt., is the son of Rumanian parents who are virtually prisoners themselves in their own native land. They went back to the homeland for a visit and were trapped there by the war. Michael, graduate of St. Johnsbury Academy, joined the Marines two years ago. He has four brothers, one of whom, Fred, is serving on an American tanker.

HENRY FREDERICK LASER, 24, supply sergeant, U. S. Marines, is the son of Mrs. Marie Laser of East Church st., Terryville, Ct. He joined up eight years ago, and his brother, Earl, recently volunteered in the Army. A graduate of Terryville High School, Henry also has a sister, Elsie, 19. Last word his family had of him was a letter mailed from Guam in September.

JOHN J. COVALESK, 26, of Trenton st., Lawrence; civilian worker, Wake Island; son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Covalesk; went to Wake about five months ago. A former sailor in the U. S. Navy, Covalesk was in the merchant marine in the Mediterra

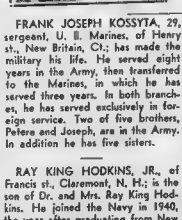
WILLIAM H. MANNING, JR., seaman second class, of Linard rd., Allston, is the son of Mr. William H. Manning, and a nephew of Mayor J. Fred Manning, of Lynn. He joined the Navy in 1939. His brother, George, is in the Coast Guard. For Christmas, William sent his mother a music box from Wake Island. He commented recently, she said, that life in the Navy was "all work and no play."

MARCEL MARTINEAU, 30, of Winthrop ave., Lawrence, a civilian carpenter at Wake Island, had been at that Pacific outpost since a year ago last January. His widowed mother, Mrs. Phillippine Martineau, said she last heard from him in Nov., 1941, through a letter from another son, Clement, chief radioman in the U. S. Navy, who visited his brother at Wake. Marcel is a former champion wrestler in Lawrence. He has two sisters, Beatrice, 19, and Clair, who is training to be a nurse.

ALFRED JALINSKI, 35, chief machinist's mate, of Peckham st., Fall River; is married and has a 12-year-old son, Alfred, Jr. His wife, Jeanette, said she last heard from him at Christmas, when she received a card from Pearl Harbor. She said she was relieved to know that he was a prisoner.

WILLIAM B. GRIM, 21, of Foch ave., Portsmouth, N. H., was one of the civilians working on Wake Island at the time of the Jap attack. He served as civilian educational advisor to the Army up to the outbreak of war. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gaylor B. Grim. His father served overseas with the Rainbow Division during World War I.

Jean when Italy went to war. His mother said she had cried herself to sleep worrying about her son, and that she was now relieved to know that, at least, he was alive. A brother, Edward, 21, is employed in a Lawrence mill.



LEON A. GRAVES, corporal, U. S. Marines, about 26; last lived in Grant st., Lowell. He is the son of the late Leon Graves, a war veteran, and Mrs. Graves, who is confined to State hospital. His brother, Roland, 19, is in the Army. He has another brother, Alton, 10, and sister, Elizabeth, 14, who are boarding with Lowell families. He left Lowell nine years ago.

ABNER ELLSWORTH FOSTER, 41, of Bedford st., Burlington, Mass., master technical sergeant, U. S. Marines, is a veteran leatherneck of 24 years service. He has served in U. S. outposts the world over, and nothing—not even being a prisoner of the Japs—could faze him. Foster has made the Marines a career. He is married and has two children, Errol, 10, and John 3. His wife, Birdie, said she was glad to know that at least he is alive.

ALAN W. PARMENTER, 31, of Dewey st., Natick, radioman first class, is another Navy career man. He is married and his wife, Marie, was with him on the island of Guam until June, 1941, when Americans were evacuated. Parmenter joined the Navy in 1929. Last word of him was received by his mother, Mrs. Rae Thrasher, in a letter from Guam, which told of his plans for coming home. Parmenter has two brothers, one, Edward, a lieutenant in the 181st Infantry, Ralph and a sister, Alice.

WALTER J. REILLY, 29, sergeant, U. S. Marines, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick J. Reilly of Rutland, Vt. He was a crack mile runner and swimmer while attending Mount St. Joseph Academy, from which he graduated in 1934. Later he joined the CCC, in which he served one and a half years, advancing to a senior leader. Then he resigned to join the Marines in the spring of 1940. His mother said he chose the Marines "because he didn't like the Navy uniforms.

FRANK LEWIS FENN, JR., 29, pharmacist's mate 1st class, of Grove st., Great Barrington; is a veteran Navy man of eight years in service. He is the son of Frank Fenn and has a brother, Thomas, 28, who lives in Great Barrington. His father said he last heard from Frank in a letter sent last October from Guam.

FRANK JOSEPH KOSSYTA, 29, sergeant, U. S. Marines, of Henry st., New Britain, Ct.; has made the military his life. He served eight years in the Army, then transferred to the Marines, in which he has served three years. In both branches, he has served exclusively in foreign service. Two of five brothers, Peters and Joseph, are in the Army. In addition he has five sisters.

RAY KING HODKINS, JR., of Francis st., Claremont, N. H.; is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Ray King Hodkins. He joined the Navy in 1940, the year after graduating from New Hampton Academy and holds the rank of seaman 2d class.

ARMAND ROBERT HOUDE, 23, private first class, U. S. Marines, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Houde, of Berkeley st., Marlboro. Born on Armistice day, with two of his brothers in service, he comes from a fighting family. His brother Lionel is in the Army, stationed at Pearl Harbor, and his brother, Severe, is in the Navy at Norfolk, Va. Prior to his capture, Armand was cited for bravery in the gallant defense of Wake Island.

SECOND LIEUT. ROBERT WILLIS GREELEY, USMCR., 23, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Greeley, of Central st., Hudson. He is a graduate of Tufts College, class of '39, and has been on active duty in the Marine Corps Reserve for one year. One of six children, including three boys and three girls, Robert was last heard from by his mother in a postcard mailed from Wake Island Dec. 3.

JOHN PAUL MOORE, 20, private first class, USMC, of 27 Cypress st., Lawrence, has been a fighting leatherneck for 2½ years, since he was 17. Both his parents are dead, but he has a family of three sisters and a brother. His brother, James, 22, when he hard Wake Island had fallen, hopped to the nearest recruiting station and joined the Navy. John Paul has a twin sister, Mona. His two other sisters are Rita, 25, and Mrs. John Collins.

MARTIN ANDREW GRESKA, corporal, U. S. Marines, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Greske, of Winter st., Hudson. He was cited for bravery for his part in the gallant defense of Wake Island. A marine for the past five years, Greske graduated from Hudson high school, where he starred in football and baseball.

GEORGE MEETRY MALOOF, 32, of Shawmut ave., Boston, boatswain's mate first class, quit high school in his junior year at English and joined the Navy. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Meetry Maloof, and he has three sisters, all of whom lived in Honolulu and haven't been heard from since Dec. 7. His brother, James, local taxi driver once fought in the 126-lb. class as "Kid Harmon." A younger sister is at home.

HARRY STUART FRASER, 19, seaman 2d class, of State st., New Haven, Ct.; joined the Navy a year ago last September and frequently wrote his mother, Mrs. Chester Fraser, that he loved it. When war was declared, his brother, Chester, 32, left a good job and joined the Navy, too. He has two sisters, Mrs. J. Thompson and Mrs. Ellen Benoit, both of New Haven. His mother said she last heard from him in a letter sent from Wake Island Nov. 17.

CHARLES A. BOWEN, 23, pharmacist's mate 3d class, of Esra st., Bridgeport, Ct.; has been in the Navy four years. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bowen and has a brother, Robert, 21, who has been in the Navy five years. He also has a sister, who said last word of him was a card received Dec. 8.

OUR DAILY CITATION: To all the officials, wardens and volunteers whose splendid civic-mindedness and ability to carry out instructions made Boston's first blackout a conspicuous success. Mayor LaGuardia of New York City, who witnessed the test, did not overstate the truth when he said: "The event was extraordinary beyond all reasonable expectations."

THE United States should bring General Douglas MacArthur back from beleaguered Bataan.

Then the United States should give this truly competent military leader a voice in the running of the war that will be heard and obeyed.

GENERAL MacARTHUR
America Needs His Genius and Experience

General MacArthur has shown the world what he can do.

He may have spared words more than some of our other warriors.

But General MacArthur has not spared ACTION, and that is the thing that counts in wartime.

Everybody, soldier and civilian alike, feels a healthy rush of American pride surging through his veins when he considers how MacArthur and his men, outnumbered though never outbraved, have held out resolutely and effectively day after day, week after week, against the might of Japan.

To lose such a genius, to sacrifice him needlessly would be an indication of official blundering comparable to the errors which paved the way for the slap at Pearl Harbor and the near-knockdown blow at Singapore.

This democratic country of ours should not treat MacArthur as Mussolini treated General Italo Balbo by relegating MacArthur to obscurity as the Fascist premier relegated the Italian hero to Libya.

Instead, we citizens, whose lives and fortunes are hinged upon the outcome of this war, should insist that the provenly efficient General MacArthur get authority and power to give the Japs the sound beating they deserve and most certainly should receive.

WE SHOULD REMEMBER that MacArthur is not a military flash in the pan.

He was No. 1 man in his class at West Point 39 years ago.

He was a major of engineers when the United States went to war in April, 1917.

Soon he was commissioned colonel and made chief of staff of the celebrated Rainbow Division.

A year later, as brigadier general, he led the 84th Infantry Brigade in the first strictly American battle of the war, the reduction of the St. Mihiel salient.

Spurning a mahogany desk and an upholstered chair, he personally led his men in some of the most severe fighting of World War No. I, was gassed in the Salient du Feye and wounded at Exermont.

He emerged from the conflict with the Distinguished Service Cross, awarded only for bravery in actual fighting, and the Oak Leaf Cluster, the equivalent of a second cross.

After a distinguished peacetime career, which included the superintendency of West Point, he became Army chief of staff with the rank of full general.

In that capacity he introduced the four-army defense system, increased the Air Corps to 2500 planes, enlarged the enlisted personnel by 46,500, and began modernization of the national defense system of widespread use of armored cars, tanks and other battle vehicles calculated to speed up the tempo of action.

Not without reason did President Roosevelt write to him three years ago:

"Your record in war and peace is a brilliant chapter in American history."

But General MacArthur's book is not finished.

The most important chapter of all remains to be written.

Let us bring him back now to write it with the defeats which we as a proud, unconquered nation must inflict on the Japs and their Axis partners.

TELL HOW BRITISH BLAST SHIPS AND FIRE AXIS WARPLANES

By PRESTON GROVER

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, Feb. 18 (delayed) (AP)—British warships and planes engag d in keeping the sea lanes open in the eastern Mediterranean have just completed a wide four-day sweep during which they damaged two cruisers and a destroyer and five Axis warplanes.

British losses consisted of two planes and two merchant ships, which were set afire by Axis bombers while in convoy and subsequently were sent to the bottom by escorting warships. A third freighter suffered superficial damage, but all participating British naval units escaped unscathed.

I was aboard one of the merchant vessels when it was set afire, and had a ringside seat for part of the far-flung action, which began Feb. 13 and continued through Feb. 16, ranging from Malta to Alexandria and as far north as the Ionian sea.

THE ITALIAN NAVY came briefly into the action when a force of its cruisers set out Feb. 14 to finish off a British freighter damaged by a German dive bomber.

They never reached their target. British naval aircraft went after them and later the same day a British submarine sent two torpedoes into an Italian cruiser which was heading home.

Our ship got her death blow on Feb. 14, 280 miles from Malta, when a two-engined German dive bomber pounced from a cloud, swept down to within 1000 feet and loosed two bombs which struck her afterdeck.

It is an unpleasant sensation to be aboard a plodding freighter at which a screaming dive bomber has just loosed a stick of bombs.

I WAS ON THE BRIDGE when the bomber that finally got us dropped out of a cloudbank at an altitude of 4000 feet, dodged through a curtain of anti-aircraft fire and came down directly astern of us.

Almost frozen into immobility I saw the raider let go two plump bombs, and as I watched them speed downward with a spine-chilling whistle I knew they were ticketed for us.

They struck home on the afterdeck with a roar and a flash of red flame that rose high as the masts.

IT WAS OBVIOUS there was no hope of getting the fire under control, and the order was given to abandon ship.

(Editor's Note—Two Associated Press correspondents, starting from different points on two British ships, had the unique experience of being in the midst of the latest big sea-air battle in the Mediterranean, each unaware of the other's presence.

(William McGaffin, 31-year-old Nebraskan, eastward bound from Gibraltar on a British destroyer, suddenly found his vessel racing to aid a convoy attacked by Axis warplanes. He saw one British merchant ship set afire and abandoned by her crew, but not until he reached Alexandria did he know that Preston Grover, 41, a Utah-born Associated Press correspondent, was one of the survivors.)

As a destroyer sped to our assistance the voice of a man trapped below could be heard crying:

"Get me out! Get me out!"

A husky sergeant ripped off a hatch cover and pulled the man out from the midst of popping shells, virtually unscathed but badly shaken.

SOME OF OUR BOATS were pulling away, but I decided to try to rescue my typewriter. When I came out the destroyer was standing close alongside, heaving on the waves so that her deck was almost level with ours and again almost 20 feet below.

A sailor on the destroyer spied my typewriter and yelled "Throw it."

I did—and sailor and typewriter crashed to the deck together. The sailor was unhurt, but the typewriter didn't fare so well.

Then I jumped—one of the last 10 to leave the burning ship. The freighter's captain was the last to go.

AS THE DESTROYER pulled away she was showered with flying fragments of shells from the freighter's hold. The butt end of a cylinder of compressed gas hurtled into the air and bounced off the destroyer's bridge, ricocheting among the packed survivors below.

Several long-armed soldiers reached up and caught it like a forward pass, saving their mates from serious injury.

It was not until I was put ashore in Alexandria that I knew another Associated Press correspondent, William McGaffin, had witnessed the destruction of my ship and the rescue of her survivors from another British destroyer.

By WILLIAM McGAFFIN

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, Feb. 17 (Delayed) (AP) — British fighters shot down one and possibly two torpedo bombers when Axis warplanes attacked a British Mediterranean cruiser squadron again today after their bombs led to destruction of two British merchantmen and damaged a third.

I watched the show from the bridge of a British destroyer on which I was proceeding from Gibraltar to Alexandria.

Two torpedo bombers tried to slip in out of the sun for an attack, but fighters which were protecting us saw them before they could come in and gave chase. Warships saw, too, and began firing furiously, stopping only as the fighters closed in for the kill.

Suddenly one of the torpedo bombers glowed red in the sky and a few seconds later dropped into the sea.

ANOTHER BRITISH FIGHTER was hard on the tail of the other bomber, pumping bullets into it. The bomber last was seen wobbling low over the horizon.

The men of the destroyer I was aboard were yelling like they were at a football game while they watched the fight.

Those working below out of sight were kept informed by a running description from the bridge broadcast over the ship's loudspeaker system.

TWENTY MINUTES BEFORE, three planes managed to attack the convoy and drop torpedoes in the center of the steaming vessels before they were driven off—but no damage was done.

The first we knew of the attack was when we arrived early in the afternoon to see a great column of gray smoke billowing up on the horizon from a blasted feighter.

Here and there, great splashes showed as bombs plopped into the water amid the fanned-out convoy.

The destroyer's crew went to action stations at once and soon her guns were joining the batteries of other warships in transforming the blue above into a mackerel sky full of white shell bursts.

The planes were so high they were hard to see but there was no mistaking they were there.

We twisted and turned in a crazy snake dance as the bombs began to fall nearer.

THEN I SAW a plane flying right over us and a few seconds later there was a mighty swish which told of a descending load of death heading for us.

I shut my eyes and flattened myself on the deck with the ship's officers.

The stick of bombs missed us by yards. It left a great splotch of oil in the water alongside the ship. When I got up my clothes were covered with grime and my notebook was so dirty it was illegible.

THE LAST NIGHT out we were listening to Prime Minister Churchill's speech over the ship's radio when a loud bang interrupted the proceedings. Our vessel had dropped a depth charge on suspicion she was near an enemy submarine. We spent all night in the search for the submarine which had been spotted late in the afternoon by a plane.

Summing up the voyage, one might say that all in all it still is possible to take a winter cruise in the Mediterranean—but I would not recommend it for tired business men with jumpy nerves.

George Raft

Broadway's Voice

WHY GEO. RAFT HAS "BODYGUARD"

By Dorothy Kilgallen

NEW YORK, Feb. 19—On Broadway and on the by-paths of Broadway you can't take a person by his face—or even by his two-faced—value. You can't believe all of what you see or much of what you hear in the night-owl district, and putting two and two together is the least accurate way of finding the right answer. Because life is often like a Gershwin song, and you're apt to find that things AIN'T NECESSARILY SO. For instance, a few days ago George Raft came to Manhattan to do a guest shot on Charles Martin's radio show. And all during the highly ominous airing of the play, "Brother Orchid," a tense young man stood on the stage a few feet away from Raft, saying nothing, while the other actors eyed him a bit nervously. This dark, unsmiling, slender fellow was the highly publicized "Killer" Gray, Raft's bodyguard. George, since reaching stardom, has never made a picture without letting "Killer" do a bit in it. And you seldom see George at a cafe without "Killer" at his table.

TALLULAH BANKHEAD

"Bodyguard" is what they call "Killer," but George never did need a bodyguard. That was his own special forte back in the days of early Prohibition. "Killer" Gray is just his pal—a good companion. But he always had one minor, annoying fault. When any one was telling a story, it was his delight to step in fast and throw the punch line away before the narrator could finish. He was, in other words, a gag killer. And so the nickname—and so the legend. And today in Hollywood, and even in some New York circles, there is a widely held belief that "Killer's" nickname had a more sinister origin.

But it ain't necessarily so.

IT'S THAT WAY everywhere you go . . . Powerful Jack Dempsey speaks in the tiny, high diffident voice of Bre'r Rabbit . . . Damon Runyon, who writes knowingly of lads who belt the grape, bows to coffee as his strongest brew . . . Tallulah Bankhead, whose throaty passionate voice makes her sound like an Amazon, is five feet two and could be blown away by a Southern zephyr . . . Mel Ott, manager-captain of the swaggering ball-playing Giants, says yes, sir, respectful-like when he talks to man or boy . . . Little Tommy Dix comes onstage in "Best Foot Forward" looking like an eighth-grade cherub, opens his mouth, and sings like Ezio Pinza . . . Freddy Martin is on his way to making a mint via his piano concerto recording—but he can't play the piano.

So you see, it ain't necessarily so.

BROADWAYITES have been casting suspicious glances at barbers and waiters and night club owners with alien names. But it ain't necessarily so. Gene Leone, of the famous restaurant family, was a U. S. aviator in the last war, and although he is the father of two youngsters he has offered his services in this one . . . Frank Cerutti, who has owned niteries since you and I were this high, Maggie, served as top sergeant with the last AEF and came out of the fray with nine citations. His favorite pastime over his bar is not the match game—it's reading letters to you, if you'll listen, from his son, a looie in the tank corps. That type of case history goes for a lot of the captains and bus boys and pub owners along the owl patrol. So it ain't necessarily so that every waiter named Guiseppe is an Axis spy.

EDWARD G. ROBINSON, who looks so fierce and talks so tough, has just built a new California home for his collection of priceless modern paintings . . . Marlene Dietrich gives the appearance of being too languid to ever get up off her chaise longue—but she can whip into the kitchen and bake a chocolate cake as good as any Kate Smith ever made . . Hildegarde is the essence of assurance on a night club floor, but she won't buy a hat unless a girl friend is along to give it the approving nod . . . Bob Hope's diffident manner in the films belies the fact that he is extremely handy with his dukes and a good man to have on your side in a brawl . . . Grace Moore's regal bearing on the stage of the Met has nothing to do with the fact that she can quack-quack like a duck when she's feeling merry.

It ain't necessarily so!

FORMER ATTORNEY-GENERAL Paul A. Dever became a lieutenant-commander in the U. S. Naval Reserve in Washington yesterday, it having been foretold in this space Monday that the Democratic candidate for Governor in 1940 expected to don a uniform shortly . . . The development eventuated suddenly, coming sooner then Paul's friends expected . . . He was inducted at noon and assigned at once to the judge-advocate general's office of the Navy . . . Lieut.-Comdr. Dever's withdrawal from civilian life will make a wide-open scramble of the coming battle for the Democratic nominee to top the ticket in the November election . . . If the former attorney-general had remained in mufti, he would most probably have been the favorite to win the nomination . . . Certain (but unannounced) candidates (at this writing) are Congressman Joseph E. Casey of Clinton and former Lieut. Gov. Francis E. Kelly.

FRED ALLEN WAS AN OVERNIGHT visitor to this, his hometown, but he was unable to see his chum, Benny Drohan, at the Rio Casino . . . The doughty Benjamin is working in a tuxedo for the first time in his lengthy career in show-business . . . But Benny makes the leap adroitly . . . His patter is entertaining, and his shyness is part of his charm . . . Audiences have taken him to their hearts from the start . . . Typical of the frank and natural Drohan humor is his disclosure that the tuxedo is the gift of his friend, Police Commissioner Joseph F. Timilty . . . And he's not kidding . . . His gags are good . . . Spotting a lawyer-friend in the audience last night, Mr. Drohan remarked: *"I'm surprised to see you. JEANETTE TO HAVE COMEDY ROLE

By Louella O. Parsons

Jeanette MacDonald

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 19 - When I visited Jeanette MacDonald on the M-G-M lot a few weeks ago she told me that she wanted to make a straight comedy in which music is only incidental. Apparently, Jeanette, like all of our stars, is heeding the request from the men in the service that they be given movies that will make them laugh. I have just learned that Ladislaus Fodor's gay, sparkling comedy drama, "Shadow of a Lady," is slated as Mrs. Raymond's next movie.

Shouldn't be a very difficult role, for Jeanette plays a Hollywood movie singing star (like herself) stranded in Cairo and rescued, if you please, by a good-looking foreign correspondent. But the newspaper man won't be Nelson Eddy. And he won't be a drunk, praise be! We get awfully tired of having our newspaper reporters pictured with the inevitable bottle.

GLENN MILLER, idol of the rug cutters, follows Kay Kyser and Rudy Vallee into straight acting roles. Glenn was so popular in "Sun Valley Serenade" and did such a good acting job that he (and his orchestra, of course) return to 20th Century-Fox for "Orchestra Wife," which has George Montgomery and Maureen O'Hara in the triangular star spots. More and more these orchestra boys are proving their value at the box office.

As for George Montgomery—he's going pretty great guns himself—and, even if Glenn is turning actor, I doubt if he'll steal the romantic honors from Montgomery. Gregory Ratoff is set to direct "Orchestra Wife," with Mack Gordon and Harry Warren whipping up the tunes.

I WONDER WHY no one at M-G-M thought of Mary Roberts Rinehart's "Tish" for Marjorie Main until now. The story is perfect for her. Well, Harry Ruskin, who writes the "Kildare" stories, is preparing a screen play now and if the first one is successful we'll have a "Tish" series with the inimitable Marjorie as the heroine.

FOR THE FIRST TIME since 1917 Frank Lloyd got out the old make-up kit and smeared himself up as an actor for a role in his own production of "The Spoilers." And there's more to Frank's accepting this role from himself than meets the whiskers. In "Les Miserables" he played the role of the gendarme who comes to arrest William Farnum, who played Jean Valjean. Well, there is an identical scene in "The Spoilers" of an old sheriff going to arrest Bill Farnum (this time playing a crooked lawyer). Frank said: "I rehearsed this role years ago!" And promptly handed himself the part.

SHOULD WIFE QUIT JOB?

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN OF THE JURY: My husband and I have been married four and a half years and are in our early thirties. Three months after we married he got laid off from his job and since then—or up until six months ago—he has worked only occasionally.

He stayed out nights and days at a time while I worked at $15 a week, trying to keep our marriage together and pay our bills. It got so bad I left him for several months in the hope he would settle down. He kept begging me to go back to him, and six months ago, when he got a job, I did.

His salary is now $27 a week, but he spends between $5 and $7 each week for drinks for himself and friends. That's not counting his carfare, cigarettes and lunches.

I am still working and he expects me to take him out on Saturday nights. I do as he says because he threatens to spend his whole week's pay if I don't.

All he knows is that he's working and he's the boss. I would like to keep peace in our marriage and find happiness.

Do you think I should quit working under the circumstances?—Wife

HOW THE JURY VOTED
Women: Yes, three; No, three Men: Yes, four; No, two.

PRACTICAL NURSE: Yes. I wouldn't contribute a cent to a man like that. She has allowed him to make a fool of her up to now.

TYPIST (WOMAN): No, I wouldn't quit working. As long as I could support myself I would leave him until he made a man of himself.

BARBER: Yes, she should quit working and make him get some responsibility. She has made it too easy for him.

NECKTIE SALESMAN: Yes. That guy has had it too easy. She ought to play sick for a while and let him see what it's like to pay the bills.

HOUSEWIFE: No. I think it would be better for her own future if she kept her job, but she should certainly refuse to give any of the money to him.

DRESS TRIMMER: Yes. It is the husband's duty to keep up the home. If he doesn't want to she is better off away from him.

COUNTERMAN: Yes. She's nuts to keep a guy like that. What if he does blow a week's pay; he'll soon find out you need money to eat.

BRAKEMAN: No, but if she wants to solve her problem she better stop coddling that guy.

STENOGRAPHER: Yes. She should have quit her job as soon as she went back to him and made him prove himself worthy of her.

MUSIC TEACHER (woman): No, I wouldn't quit my job. But I wouldn't give one red cent to him.

CREDITMAN: Yes, and I'd let that fellow go hungry for a little while until he learned to appreciate what has been done for him.

CARPENTER: No, her job keeps her mind occupied. But she won't make anything out of that fellow by spoiling him that way.

Your Daughter Has a Right to Know

It is every mother's duty to tell her daughter physical facts. How much better that she learn them from you, rather than from girls her own age. In feminine hygiene, facts may be distorted, or wholly untrue. As a result, many brides use over-strong solutions of acids for the douche which can actually burn, scar and even desensitize delicate tissue.

Today such risks are needless. Science has given womankind Zonite. So powerful, it kills instantly all germs and bacteria with which it comes in contact. Deodorizes—by actually destroying odors. Protects personal daintiness. Yet! Zonite is non-caustic, non-poisonous, safe for delicate tissues. Over 20,000,000 bottles bought. Get Zonite at your druggist today.

PEANUT PUDDING

¼ cup cornstarch
⅛ tsp. salt
1 tbsp. sugar
½ cup cold water
3 tbsp. honey
¼ cup peanut butter
3 cups scalded milk

Mix cornstarch, salt, sugar and cold water. Mix honey and peanut butter; add scalded milk slowly, mixing well. Stir in cornstarch mixture and cook over hot water 10 minutes, stirring constantly until thick and clear; then cover and cook 15 minutes longer, stirring occasionally. Cool, turn into serving dishes and chill. Makes 6 servings.

Draftee Disapproves of His Girl Going Out With Others

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I'm a young man of 25 years and since I've been taken in the draft I see my girl friend only every month or so; the rest of the time we correspond.

She is 22 years old. She tells me sometimes that she goes out with other boys; often I hear it from another source, which distresses me terribly. I care for her more than I've ever told her.

How can I find out whether she is really in love with me or cares more for the other fellow's company? DRAFTEE.

It often puzzles me, when I get a letter like yours, why the simple experiment of asking a girl does not occur to you boys who stew and fuss and then keep on in an agony of doubt.

You know that this girl goes out with other young men. If you were to tell her how much you care for her, more than likely she wouldn't accept so many of these invitations which worry you so much.

SERVE FLUFFY EGGS ON ENRICHED TOAST

During early spring when eggs are plentiful and within reach even of wartime purses, serve Fluffy Eggs on enriched toast. Arrange a mound of stiffly beaten egg whites seasoned with a few grains of salt on slices of enriched toast. Drop a whole egg yolk into the center of each mound, dot with butter or margarine and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Place under a broiler or into a moderate oven just long enough to brown the whites lightly and cook the yolks.

Keep Your Family Doubly Happy...

HAPPY AT HOME... HAPPY AT WORK

...Serve The Bread That's Doubly Fresh

FRESH WHEN YOU BUY IT... FRESH WHEN YOU EAT IT

Because it's Slo-Baked for Lasting Freshness

Baked 13% Longer Than Many Ordinary Kinds—Wins Bread Comparison Tests 9 to 1

IF you want bread fresh when you buy it ... fresh when you eat it ... and still fresh the next day for table or lunch box—then today ask your grocer for doubly fresh Wonder Bread.

Today at the store feel it—it's fresh! Tomorrow at home feel it—it's still fresh! Not dry or rough. Not stale or tasteless. But still perfect for table or sandwiches. Because fresh in flavor.

That's why women by the thousands are now buying this doubly fresh Wonder Bread. Because this is the bread made to stay fresh longer.

It's Slo-Baked

Slo-baking is the secret of doubly fresh Wonder Bread. Baked 13% longer than many ordinary kinds for lasting freshness. Note the difference. For this is a bread that you can tell is tender and moist. And stays that way amazingly long. Look at the texture so lacy white. And smell the aroma of sun-ripened wheat magically transformed by slo-baking. Then taste it and prove to yourself how mouth-wateringly good it is.

Preferred 9 to 1

In blind comparison tests made in different sections of the country by over 600,000 women to date, doubly fresh Wonder Bread has been chosen the "one best bread" 9 to 1—best for fresh flavor, aroma and texture.

Now there is no reason why you can't afford to have the best. So go to your grocer without further delay and get a loaf of this doubly fresh Wonder Bread right away. And see for yourself how fresh it is ... how wonderfully fresh it keeps. Do as thousands of women now do—buy doubly fresh Wonder Bread today. You'll be glad you did—and so will your family!

Beauty

HERE IS A GIRL who is onto the latest and smartest, as you can judge by her smart "tropicals" and that stunning gold-and-diamond lapel pin . . . and you may be sure that when she turns to meet a handsome gent she has no worries about her make-up. It would be flawless. And it wouldn't be at all surprising if her handbag disclosed the newest life-saving gadget . . . a clip which holds her lipstick and her rouge firmly linked in a pert, red plastic case which she finds without rummaging. Arline Gould tells you about this delightful gift in today's beauty column.

ROUGE AND LIPSTICK NOW IN NEAT, TANDEM FORM

By ARLINE GOULD

"TWO'S COMPANY" is a cliche, but it still holds . . . and will, probably, as long as love goes on.

So, subtly suggesting the cozy quality of a bicycle built for two, a cosmetician of note has picked the "Tandem" as a name for one of the smartest gadgets we've seen in many a moon.

To appeal particularly to the young set, its maker calls it the "Sub-Deb Tandem," but that doesn't mean that it won't be welcomed by older sisters and even youthful mothers.

All right, so we'll get to the point. It is a clip, shaped like a little lapel watch, containing a box of silky-smooth rouge, for which this house is justly famed, and one of their superswell lipsticks.

What does it cost? Nothing at all, if you are buying the rouge and lipstick. The Tandem is made of clear, claret-red plastic material.

It must have been a man who thought of it, because men invariably take such a superior attitude about our over-stuffed pocket-books. With their sixteen pockets, they should be superior!

Even if the products of this cosmetician weren't so tried and true, and if we hadn't loved them for years, we would fall for them just to get the "Tandem."

But the rouge and lipstick, which of course match in shade, are of the highest quality. The shades are particularly satisfactory, too. They call them "Magnet Red," "Dahlia" and "Tamale."

Incidentally, the combination in its tricky clip makes a grand gift, especially for the young girl who loves to be first in her crowd with the latest. And it costs only a dollar for both the rouge and lipstick.

Arline Gould will tell you the name of this lipstick and rouge and where you can buy it, if you call her at LIBerty 4000 weekdays before 5, or write her, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope, at the Boston Evening American.

NEWS FOR MODERN WOMEN

FOOD

By Martha Lee

IF YOU ARE IN NEED OF ideas for an extra special menu for Washington's Birthday, baked pork tenderloin is one very good solution to the problem. It is a small roast and makes an attractive main dish. Serving it is a good dietetic trick, too, because pork is a very healthful food. It has plenty of high quality protein, is one of the very best sources of the B vitamins, and furnishes phosphorus and iron in generous amounts.

The pork tenderloin is a long, narrow, very tender piece of meat which is taken from the under side of the loin. It weighs from one-half to three-fourths of a pound.

COOKING TENDERLOIN

To prepare the roast wipe it first with a damp cloth. Place the meat on a rack in an open roasting pan. Insert a meat thermometer. Roast in an oven (300 deg. F.) for 1 hour and 15 minutes, or until the meat thermometer registers 185 deg. F. Long, thorough cooking brings out the succulent juicy flavor and goodness of the pork.

The tenderloin pictured on this page was served with brown gravy made from flour and drippings. The Texas rice is a good starchy accompaniment.

TEXAS RICE

1 cup raw rice
4 tbsp. lard or drippings
½ clove garlic
3 small chili peppers
1½ tsp. salt
1 No. 2 can tomatoes
1½ cups water

Cook rice in the fat to a golden brown. Chop garlic and peppers and add with remaining ingredients. Cover and cook slowly until rice is dry and grains stand apart, about 45 minutes. Serve this as the vegetable accompaniment for the meat course.

After you've served this tender cut of pork, you'll find yourself in the chef class glowing under the shower of praises. You might even want to do a little experimenting with other recipes. Following are suggestions:

TENDERLOIN ROLLS

2 pork tenderloins (about)
Salt and pepper
Potato stuffing
6 strips bacon
¼ cup boiling water

Cut each tenderloin in 3 pieces about 4 inches long; split each lengthwise, being careful not to cut through; spread open, place between pieces of waxed paper and flatten with mallet. Sprinkle with salt and pepper, cover with stuffing, roll and tie securely, and lay in uncovered baking pan. Place a bacon strip on each, add hot water and bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) about 1 hour, or until tender. Makes 6 servings.

POTATO STUFFING

1 cup hot mashed potatoes
½ cup crumbs from day-old bread
3 tbsp. butter, melted
1 egg
½ tsp. salt
3 tbsp. chopped onion

Mix together all ingredients, adding a little milk if mixture is dry. Makes 1¾ cups stuffing.

DEVILED PORK FILLETS

2 pork tenderloins, each cut in 6 pieces
Salt and pepper
3 tbsp. butter
2 tbsp. chili sauce
2 tbsp. walnut ketchup
1½ tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1 tsp. prepared mustard
¼ tsp. onion
¼ tsp. paprika
1-3 cup boiling water

Flatten pieces of tenderloin, sprinkle with salt and pepper, and saute in butter until browned and almost tender, then place in baking pan; add remaining ingredients to drippings and pour over meat. Bake in moderate oven (350 deg. F.) about 15 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

SERVE Roast Pork Tenderloin on an extra-special menu.

Today's Food Bargains

Fashion

WE PARTICULARLY like the buttoned tabs which make such an interesting pattern down the bodice of this smart and simple frock. This one really ends the discussion as to which way . . . masculine or feminine . . . is more sensible for buttoning over. The dress is one of those wonderful numbers that will take you practically anywhere, make you look pounds lighter, because of its cleverly flared skirt, and stand innumerable cleansings without ever getting bedraggled. It is a grand dress for travel as well as town, for the fabric is worsted-dull tecala crepe woven with crimped acetate rayon, which has a high degree of crush-resistance. Polka dot rayon crepe touches it off.—ANNICE BRINK.

SENSIBLE SHOES NEEDED FOR YOUR WAR DUTIES

By BETTINA BEDWELL

ON YOUR feet will rest a lot more than your weight this year. Your part in helping the United States win the war is resting also to a great extent on your two feet. And while the shoe manufacturers have done the best job they know how to give us comfortable and practical shoes, the real responsibility is up to each and every one of us.

Some of the things we have come to think of as beautifying our feet will have to go, if we are to be at our best in the services we perform. One is the super stilt heel. The world may totter, but women and girls can't afford to in these times.

Choose a heel that is moderately high, and one that has enough breadth to support your weight substantially.

Better yet, have some low-heeled shoes for runabout wear even if you think you can't wear low heeled shoes. You can, of course. Nature would have built high heels into our anatomy if we really needed them for support.

Other points essential to your shoes in wartime are enough length for comfort, and toes that are well rounded so they do no pinching. Good leather, if possible, is important.

MAXWELL HOUSE BINGS FINE EXTRA-FLAVOR COFFEES FORYOUR RICH DELIGHT!

You'll revel in the taste of highland-grown coffees—Manizales... Medellins... Bucaramangas—a flavor-treat that's always the same, thanks to the Maxwell House blend!

• On the upland plateaus of Central and South America—volcanic soil, tropic rains and sparkling sunshine create coffees unlike any others in the world.

There grow the mellow-flavored coffees of the famous Manizales group—proud Sevillas... and choice Popayans. There, too, we get prized Medellins for richness . . : superb Bucaramangas for full body . . . premium Central and South Americans for their vigorous flavor.

Only limited shipments come to the U. S. But fortunately, Maxwell House can secure ample supplies. So remember—today : : : tomorrow . . . every day—you can count on Maxwell House for utmost coffee enjoyment.

Over 50 years of leadership have given our blending experts unique skill in bringing out all the exquisite flavor of choice coffees. In fact, today Maxwell House is the world's largest-selling vacuum-packed coffee.

Try Maxwell House soon. Enjoy the taste of glorious coffees—blended as only Maxwell House knows how!

Colombia: A precious cargo of choice coffees is loaded for shipment to Maxwell House

Choose from these 3 SCIENTIFICALLY CORRECT GRINDS

Naturally, all coffee roasters—including ourselves—would like to put up a single "all-purpose" grind. But clever women know different coffee-making methods call for different grinds.

Therefore, Maxwell House offers 3 accurately correct grinds. Each is ground uniformly by precision grinders. This eliminates crushing, unevenness and waiting involved in more grinding.

Not only do you get better coffee by using the right Maxwell House grind for your coffee-making method, but you may also save money. As the directions on the tins show, Drip and Glass-Maker grinds give you the same richness with substantially less coffee than if you used Regular grind for these methods.

Don't Forget...

MAXWELL HOUSE TODAY GIVES YOU MORE FLAVOR FOR YOUR MONEY

Because . . .

- There's more flavor in the Maxwell House blend—it's far richer in extra-flavor coffees from the highlands of Central and South America.
- All the marvelous richness of flavor is brought out by our special "Radiant Roast" process.
- No flavor can escape—it's sealed, roaster-fresh, in the famous super-vacuum, Vita-Fresh tin.
- 3 scientifically correct grinds—Drip, Regular, Glass-Maker—assure full flavor and economy by any coffee-making method.
- For extra value, save money and save doing trips by getting the thrifty 2-pound tin.

'Man Who Came to Dinner' Now Host to Met's Patrons

"Dinner" is ready!

The Metropolitan screen is serving it up today, and we mean that feast of wit, spice and vitriol which Broadway "legit" patrons ate up for two years—"The Man Who Came to Dinner."

Warners have adapted the sensationally successful stage comedy to the screen with Bette Davis, Ann Sheridan, Monty Woolley and Jimmy Durante in the starring roles.

There were months when you couldn't get to see this New York smash-hit for love or money. Now you may see it any day or night this week at the Met . . . and with Woolley, star of the original stage production, in the poisonously hilarious name-part.

Featured in the big supporting cast are Billie Burke, Reginald Gardiner, Richard Travis, Grant Mitchell, Elizabeth Frazer and Ruth Vivian and Mary Wickes, both of whom were seen in the stage version.

Julius and Philip Epstein, ace comedy writers, made the screen adaptation from the George Kaufman-Moss Hart stage play.

On the same program is "Steel Against the Sky," adventure-romance, with Lloyd Nolan, Alexis Smith ('member her in "Dive Bomber"?) and Craig Stevens. Edward Sutherland directed for Warners.

Spy Evil Stressed In Old South Film

The menace of thoughtlessly divulging vital information in public places is realistically presented in the Old South's concurrently spotlighted newsreel, "Look Out for Spy Listeners." The recent Normandie disaster is described as the result of "thoughtlessness which breeds sabotage." The lesson of Pearl Harbor and the necessity for immediate aid to Australia and New Zealand are stressed.

Melodrama, Comedy On Uptown's Bill

"All Through the Night," grade-A melodrama with Humphrey Bogart, Conrad Veidt and Kaaren Verne, is a genuine incentive for dropping into the Uptown tomorrow or any day the week following. On the same bill will be "Look Who's Laughing."

Fine Arts Holds Over Bali Film

"Sins of Bali," cinema closeup of primitive people and weird tribal rituals, is remaining a second week on the Fine Arts screen.

The Balinese, it seems, live in constant dread of the cruel wrath of their evil gods whose will on earth is reflected by terrifying witches. How these earth-slaves bring misfortunes to a small village and the resultant revolt of the villagers is graphically recorded in "Sins of Bali."

Also remaining another week is "She-Devil Island," another story of revolt, this time on a weird island of virgin amazons. Carmen Guerrero heads the company of Mexican performers.

CARMEN GUERRORO is the Mexican beauty who indirectly starts an Amazon rampage in "She-Devil Island," Fine Arts' screen attraction.

"SUBMARINE PATROL," now showing on the Trans-Lux screen, boasts, besides a thoroughly he-man starring trio, the beautiful Nancy Kelly.

'One Foot in Heaven' Big Hit With Normandie Audiences

As far out of the formula movie territory as the title implies, "One Foot In Heaven," which is currently showing at the Normandie, presents a story that is as refreshingly different as it is richly entertaining.

The country preacher and his faithful wife come into their own in this picture starring Fredric March and Martha Scott.

From their early trials, at times highly humorous, they march to victory over the world, the flesh and the devil.

The story is largely factual, being based on Hartzell Spence's biography of his own minister father.

The new romantic screen combination of Charles Boyer and Margaret Sullavan, is co-starred in the second feature, "Appointment for Love," a streamlined comedy-romance played against a gay and modern Broadway background.

Duke Ellington At Work on Opera

Duke Ellington, popular orchestra leader and composer whose band will conclude a unusually successful RKO Boston engagement tonight, is at work on an opera, "Boola," which is in five moods and traces the story of the Negro race from slave-ship days.

Laurel, Hardy at Boston Friday

Susan Miller Featured

The tall and short of it is that Laurel and Hardy, the film comedy team, will begin a week's in-person engagement at the RKO Boston tomorrow.

Importantly featured on the incoming new stage program will be Universal's starlet, pretty Susan Miller; the star-making Al Siegel, who discovered Ethel Merman, Martha Raye, Dorothy Lamour, Hildegarde and other musical comedy and screen personalities, and Lorraine and Rognan, Broadway dance team recently seen in the Dorothy Lamour-starring picture, "The Fleet's In."

Others in the stage company will be Lewis and Van, of Earl Carroll's Vanities memory; the Jansleys, risely experts, and Gautier's bricklayers.

Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy come direct from Hollywood, having completed their latest cinema comedy, "Great Guns." Just to remind you of their enduring popularity, these "always-in-hot-water" zanies have inspired fan clubs aggregating a membership of more than a couple million admirers.

Little Miss Miller, recently seen on a local screen opposite W. C. Fields in "Never Give a Sucker an Even Break," is one of the film capital's prettiest.

For film fare, starting tomorrow, the RKO Boston will present "What's Cookin,'" a first-run tuneful comedy starring the Andrews Sisters, plus Woody Herman and his orchestra and Jane Frazee. Youthful Gloria Jean is featured.

BOISTEROUS and balmy in their screen antics, Laurel and Hardy will meet their local fans face-to-face at the RKO Boston tomorrow, when they start a week's engagement.

Maybe They'll Just Omit February

—By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER—

Distributed by International News Service.

WAR TIME, daylight saving time and sun time must have the man of the hour puzzled.

ANYWAY, the man of the hour hasn't arrived yet. Here's another predicament we must watch out for.

IF WE KEEP on knocking off an hour here and an hour there, why, soon there will not be any February.

THERE HAS BEEN official recognition of my gag, "is Washington trying to win the war or bring back vaudeville?"

I KNOW that's a bit liberal even for free speech. But I quote Section Six, Article Eleven, of the Bill of Rights: "A citizen has the right to criticise the show even if he got in for nothing."

SOLDIERS! SAILORS! MARINES!—Don't miss "SERVICE MAN'S FRIEND," the new information aid now appearing in the DAILY RECORD.

HITLER 'PUNK' PAPERHANGER, SAYS OLD PAL

NEW YORK, Feb. 19 (AP)—Benny Nussbaum, New York paperhanger, knew Adolf Hitler when he said Hitler was known as plain Schickelgruber, the paperhanger. They were members, he said, of the same paperhangers' union in Germany.

"He was not only a crack-pot," said Nussbaum today, "but he couldn't put paper up straight. His work was terrible. With one arm I could do a better job than that guy. No wonder he gave it up.

"He was a punk soldier, too. We both were privates. I rose to the rank of sergeant. He never got higher than corporal."

Nussbaum, who became an American citizen shortly after he arrived in this country, 19 years ago, is now a senior air warden in Queens.

He has a memento from Hitler—a medal sent to him by mail in 1935, awarded "in the name of the Reichsfuehrer and Chancellor of the German people for conspicuous bravery and service to the fatherland in the last war."

There must have been some mistake about the medal, Nussbaum said, since he is Jewish and he didn't think the Nazis were passing out medals to Jews.

Nussbaum decorated his air raid headquarters himself—putting up a wallpaper with a design of army planes.

"It's contemporary," he said. "And it's a better job than Shickelgruber could ever do."

Army Men to Inspect Defense Centers Here

Defense training centers in the Greater Boston area will be inspected tomorrow by high-ranking officers from the office of Under Secretary of War Robert Patterson.

Lieut.-Col. Robert Ginsburgh, aide to Paterson; Nathaniel A. Burnell, director of defense training for the War Production Board, and James Kelley, deputy director of defense training in the U. S. Office of Education, will be members of the visiting group.

Six Army Fliers Rewarded For Mapping Ferry Course

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19 (AP)—A pioneering long distance flight which mapped the route now used to ferry American planes to the Middle East won the Distinguished Flying Cross today for three officers and three enlisted men of the Army Air Corps ferrying command.

Cited for outstanding initiative, resourcefulness and a high degree of skill under trying conditions, the six members of the crew of the B-24 four-engine bomber which made the flight were Col. Caleb V. Haynes, 46, of Surry, N. C., the pilot; Lieut.-Col. Curtis E. LeMay, 35, Columbus, O., co-pilot; Capt. Carlos J. Cochrane, 33, Topeka, Kan., navigator; Master Sergt. Adolph Cattarius, 43, Maspeth, L. I., and Technical Sergt. Richard R. Martin, 36, Buckroe Beach, Va., engineers; and Master Sergt. James E. Sands, 31, Hampton, Va., radio operator.

The decoration, highest Army award for non-combat flight achievement, was conferred on them at President Roosevelt's direction for a flight which began at Bolling Field, D. C., last fall, across the south Atlantic, to Africa, to Asia Minor and return, covering in all a route of 25,000 miles.

The flight involved the use of a large number of transport airports, the Army said, requiring expert handling of the plane because most of the fields were smaller than is considered safe for operation of as large a plane as the B-24.

Col. Haynes instead of a medal, received the oak leaf cluster for the ribbon of the Distinguished Flying Cross he won in 1939.

Jap Plane Crew Take Barren Isle

MELBOURNE, Feb. 19 (AP) — Kieta, administrative center of the Solomon Islands which was occupied by the Japanese Jan. 23, was taken by the crew of a single Japanese seaplane after having been deserted by civilians, it was disclosed today with the arrival of evacuees at Port Moresby.

M. C. Mann, a medical assistant, said that the Japanese officer of the plane planted the Japanese flag on a deserted beach at Kieta. Mann reached Australia with 14 other whites on a nine-ton mission schooner which made a 1000-mile journey here using only a cheap map for a chart. It was frequently grounded on reefs.

The Solomon Islands lie northeast of Australia.

A second remarkable voyage was disclosed with return to Sydney of the crew of a 700-ton dredge manned by Australians and carrying tons of aerial bombs and torpedoes for the Allied air forces. This dredge made a 4500-mile voyage from an Australian port to Soerabaja, big Dutch naval base on Java, in three months.

Most of Australians At Singapore Escape

SYDNEY, Australia, Feb. 19 (AP)—The Sydney Sun in a dispatch from Batavia said today virtually all the Royal Australian Air Force men who were in Singapore were removed before the stronghold's fall to the Japanese. Most of the Australian Imperial Force there, however, remained to fight to the last, it said.

2 U. S. Army Fliers Die in Mid-Air Crash

JACKSON, Miss., Feb. 19 (INS)—Second Lieut. William P. Brady of Columbia, S. C., and Second Lieut. Harvey H. Woodford of Pasadena, Cal., were killed when their pursuit planes collided in mid-air, 20 miles northeast of Jackson, according to officials at the Jackson Air Base.

What Makes Ice Follies Tick

BESS EHRHARDT smiled pleasantly as she rehearsed some new figure skating numbers at the Garden yesterday afternoon. The Ice Follies star appeared to be getting a great deal of personal enjoyment out of her work.

Miss Ehrhardt even found time to teach several amateur skaters how to do spirals and other intricate figure skating numbers. The beautiful Wisconsin girl who has been called "America's Sweetheart of the Ice" gave the children half an hour of her time as if she did not have anything else to do.

Evelyn Chandler Bess Ehrhardt

"I like to skate and I guess that is why I do not mind the long hours of practice and the numerous performances," said Miss Ehrhardt.

"I had a cold when I arrived in Boston, but it is almost entirely gone. When the show was in Canada recently, we had a day off, and we went skiing and snowshoeing in a snow storm. It was quite cold, and while we had a lot of fun at the time most of us ended up with colds."

Miss Ehrhardt has been on tour with the Ice Follies since 1936.

"Last season we played for 49 weeks," said Oscar Johnson with a chuckle. "That gave the cast only three weeks for vacation. This season we are going to play only 47 weeks which will give everyone five weeks in which to forget skating."

I asked Oscar how long ahead he planned next year's show.

"We are already working on the Ice Follies of 1943," he said. "We have our board of strategy which consists of Eddie Shipstad, Roy Shipstad, Bess Ehrhardt, Evelyn Chandler and anyone in the cast who has a new idea.

"It is pretty difficult even for myself to get something new into our show. Each idea has to be passed by so many people that it is given a tough going over.

"Ideas sure have to be good to click with this group," asserted W. H. Hadlich, publicity director for the show. "No City Editor was ever as hard boiled as our board."

Eddie Shipstad and Roy Shipstad dropped into the group, and told of how they get a thrill out of a new act in their show.

"Ice carnivals have come a long way since I first came to Boston in a comedy act at a show promoted by Ben Levias," said Eddie Shipstad. "It was an American Legion ice carnival and Oscar Johnson and myself were put on as a special attraction by Ben. I think we got $10 for our act, and we were very happy to get the engagement."

Bess Ehrhardt's Start

Bess Ehrhardt was originally a speed skater at Superior, Wis. She then saw Roy Shipstad give an exhibition of figure skating, and became captivated by this art. Later Miss Ehrhardt secured a position in the ensemble in the ice show appearing at the College Inn in Chicago.

Roy Shipstad was a member of the same show. He was quick to see Miss Ehrhardt's talent, and he gave her special instructions in figure skating. A new star was on the way to national fame.

"For one to succeed at figure skating it is necessary to practice for long hours at a time," said Miss Mary Simpson, instructor in figure skating at the Arena and at the Garden. "The girls who are doing so well in the Follies cast have put in this individual effort."

Evelyn Chandler Daring

Evelyn Chandler moved into the center of the ice. As unconcerned as one is in their drawing room, this brilliant skater burst forth into a new creation. At terrific speed Miss Chandler moved over the ice, and then executed several dazzling numbers.

Like Bess Ehrhardt and the other members of the Ice Follies, Miss Chandler is unassuming.

I believe this is one of the characteristics of all of the members of the Ice Follies and it explains better than anything else why the show clicks.

There is not anyone in the show who insists on the big lights or the headlines. On the road, Miss Ehrhardt or Miss Chandler will take an upper berth as quickly as will one of the most unimportant persons in the cast.

The other night it was decided to conduct a party at the Hotel Manger following the performance. "Who shall we invite?" Oscar Johnson and Eddie Shipstad were asked.

"Invite everyone who works in the Garden," they replied. "Invite ushers, the box office men, the women who keep the Garden clean, the special police, the men and women who work in Walter Brown's office and who are associated with Les Stout. Let it be open house."

Every star in the show attended as did the girls in the chorus. There were sandwiches, pastry, ice cream and other refreshments and no speeches. Someone moved in an orchestra and there was dancing until the early hours of the morning. It was not necessary to have your name in the social register in order to ask Bess Ehrhardt, Evelyn Chandler, Ruby Maxson or some of the other stars for the next dance.

Even though they play before 1,690,000 persons during the season, members of the Ice Follies have remained just folks. No wonder their show clicks.

'Bitsy' Turned Down for Commission

ATLANTA, Feb. 19 (AP) — Bryan (Bitsy) Grant, former national clay courts tennis champion, has been turned down as an instructor in the Navy's physical fitness program. He was interviewed by Lieut.-Commander Gene Tunney.

"There were 170 of us and only 10 to be selected," he said. "I was too small and had no college degree—that helps, you know."

Grant said he planned to take his selective service physical next week.

SPAHN, DONOVAN AND JUDD NEW HUB SOUTHPAW ACES

By HERB FINNEGAN

The Red Sox have contributed three left-handed sharpshooters to Uncle Sam's armed forces this winter—Earl Johnson, Mickey Harris and Larry Powell—yet events of the past 24 hours lead one to believe that southpaws nevertheless will play a prominent role in the Boston baseball picture this year.

Overnight, the Braves have received the signed contracts of those left-handed twins from Evansville, Warren Spahn and Bill Donovan. At Fenway Park, the signed contract of Thomas William Oscar Judd arrived in the mail.

Of the three, only Judd has ever seen big league service and he for only ten innings. Yet it will occasion no surprise if all three win regular berths.

WARREN SPAHN

SPAHN IS SMART

Spahn won't be 21 until April 23, yet comes to the Braves hailed as the finest N. L. southpaw prospect since Carl Hubbell. He's a long, loose left-hander of the Herb Pennock type, and is rated as smart as the old Sox and Yanks lefthander.

His 1940 record alone is enough to give him a starting berth (he won 19, lost six and had the phenomenal earned run average of 1.83) but he has other striking attributes.

For example, he lacked a decent motion to first base and a change of pace when he reported to the Braves at San Antonio last spring. Yet, under Johnny Cooney's tutelage he came up with a slick first base motion his very first day out, and after watching Wes Ferrell throw a "change" once he stepped in and did likewise. Anybody who learns that easily is a "natural."

Among his other achievements Spahn pitched 31 consecutive scoreless innings, led the league in shutouts (7) and defeated Cedar Rapids in the game which clinched the pennant for Evansville.

Donovan stands 6-2, two inches higher than Spahn, and weighs 198 to Spahn's 165. "Wild Bill," who isn't wild at all, had a 17-6 record at Evansville and an earned run average of 2.98.

THE HITTING PITCHER

In 1940 he won 14 and lost 7 for the same Evansville club, so with two good years of schooling under Bob Coleman behind him he should be ready.

Judd reported to the Red Sox last spring after winning 22 and losing 13 with Sacramento in '40. He had an even better scoreless inning string than Spahn, 33 to Spahn's 31.

Last year, with Grove, Harris and Johnson around, the Sox figured they didn't need him and shipped him to Louisville. There he won 13 and lost 5, and was labeled the "best southpaw in the association" at season's close.

Inasmuch as Ken Chase, obtained from Washington, is the only other southpaw on the Sox roster, it seems certain Judd will be retained this year, especially since he is 32, married and a father.

Judd, indeed, may more than earn his keep because he is a robust hitter. He is the chap who got in wrong with Branch Rickey when he wouldn't turn outfielder. Rickey saw him pitch one day in the bushes, and got four extra base hits in the bargain.

Unlike Babe Ruth, Judd didn't want to be an outfielder. But before he declared himself he played the outfield as well as pitched for Decatur in the Three-I League and led that loop in batting with the fancy average of .419

Yes, he may be a handy Andy in a war year like this, especially if Ted Williams is missing.

It is our hunch he'll make good with a vengeance, just as Spahn and Donovan seem certain of clicking with the Braves.

You've missed something
if you're less than 40 years old
This is a fact:
If you were less than 21 when Prohibition started, you have never tasted such whiskey as the Old Overholt now being offered at bars and liquor stores.
The reason is simple.
This is the first time since 1920 that America's favorite bottled in bond rye has been a ripe and mellow six years old.
And if you think that extra age doesn't make a marvelous difference in this finest of rye whiskies—the best advice we can give you is try it, and taste for yourself.
You don't know how good whiskey can be till this smooth and warming rye rolls over your tongue.
Just ask for Old Overholt, next time you're at a bar, and you'll thank us for passing the word along to you.

Trosky's Successor Handy With Club

NEW YORK, Feb. 19 (INS)—Hal Trosky, who for eight years at Cleveland held down what is sometimes called the initial sack, had hardly put the period to his announcement of retirement when up stepped Manager Lou Boudreau and declared Leslie Fleming in as Trosky's successor.

Fleming thus stands among the few major leaguers ever to attain that high estate by proclamation. There is no telling yet whether he can hold it or not, but he has the job now and is regarded as a vital factor in the rebuilding of the bogged down Cleveland baseball machine.

Meantime, who is this Fleming?

Fleming is a native of Houston, Tex., 26 years old, a left-hander and played at Nashville last season where in 106 games he batted .414 to lead the Southern Ass'n and if he had not played the last day of the season he would have wound up with a new all-time record for that loop with .421.

MISSED OUT ON RECORD

On the final day he made only one hit in eight trips, but still finished with that .414, which was just two points below the standard set in 1901.

He also drove in 103 runs and hit 29 homers to rank third in the latter department.

The Indians had him two games last year and in his eight times up he hit .250, making two hits, including a double.

Mr. Fleming, who is married, is a big husky gent whose draft status currently is unknown, but if he doesn't go away for awhile he may be what Cleveland is going to need, for you don't lose a Bob Feller and a Hal Trosky without feeling it.

Feller has gone into the service since last season, while Trosky left late last season suffering from migrane headaches which have caused him to drop out until such time as he can get back into shape to play.

WITH TRIBE NINE YEARS

Trosky had been with the Tribe for nine years, or parts thereof, and for eight of those years was the No. 1 man at first for them. His departure removed a major league life-time batting average of .313 and the power of a bat which once blasted out 42 home runs in a season.

How important Fleming can be in the Tribe setup is best seen by pointing out that Boudreau as the papoose manager—a 24-year-old on a wise old man's errand—will need all the breaks he can get to put the tribe in high and keep it there.

If Fleming doesn't prove to be merely a "rabbit ball" hitter out of the South and a real ball player Boudreau will offer thanks.

Rookie Gardener Only Association Holdout

ATLANTA, Feb. 19 (AP)—There is only one known holdout in the eight-club Southern Baseball Ass'n.

He is Pete Thomassie, a rookie outfielder with Atlanta.

Club President Earl Mann said Thomassie had mailed back three contracts.

No holdouts were reported by the other seven clubs.

PURDUE COACH RESIGNS BERTH TO JOIN NAVY

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Feb. 19 (AP)—Allen H. (Mal) Elward is putting aside football coaching a second time to serve his country in war—in the Navy.

The fighting little gridiron general last night turned in his resignation from the job of head coach of Purdue University which he had held almost five years.

"I have come to the conclusion," he wrote Pres. Edward C. Elliott and trustees, "that I can better serve my country in these perilous times in some other position."

NAME SUCCESSOR IN 10 DAYS

He said he had applied to re-enter the Navy. He was in that service five years in the World War and came out a lieutenant (senior grade).

Dr. Elliott said the trustees would meet in 10 days or two weeks to choose a football coach and an athletic director. They took the dictatorship away from Elward Jan. 22 but extended his coaching contract six months to Dec. 31.

The university president, who remarked he "personally" regretted the resignation, said, however, all Elward's friends would "applaud his decision to rejoin the Navy where men of his ability and force are needed and will count so much during the days ahead."

WON TWO GAMES IN '41

Last season Elward's Boilermakers won only two games. They tied one and lost five. He never had a Western Conference champion. In his best season in 1938, his squad won five games, lost two and tied one.

In his playing days at Notre Dame, from 1912 through 1915, he weighed only 142 pounds. Yet, at end, he substituted two seasons for Knute Rockne and was a regular his senior year.

BACKSTRETCH BREVITIES

By the Associated Press

Hirsch Jacobs, the nation's leading trainer in 1941, is living up to his title in the current race meeting at Miami's Hialeah Park.

Winner of the Miami Jockey Club's prize award for trainers in the first 15-day period, Jacobs again led all the trainers through the second lap, which ended this week. He tallied 23 points and earned first money of $350.

W. O. Hicks finished second with 21 points, good for $160. Duval A. Headley and Joseph Serio, Jr., tied for the third prize of $50 with 20 points each.

Fans at Hialeah were treated to one of the season's most thrilling finishes yesterday when James B. Campbell's Quakertown took the featured Grade "C" handicap in a battle with P. M. Burch's Horn and F. Campagna's Doublrab.

Quakertown, favored at $5.90 for $2, finished only a nose in front of Horn, with Doublrab just half a length behind. The winner stepped the six and a half furlongs in 1:18 3-5.

• • •

Apprentice Warren Mehrtens was aboard the second-place Horn in yesterday's feature at Hialeah, but he won with John C. Clark's Waller in the Hallandale purse, also for grade "C" horses but not a handicap, to increase his score as the leading rider of the meeting.

NEAAU Games At Tufts Gym On Holiday

The N. E. A. A. U. track championships which were to be held at Andover on Saturday, and for a time looked like a washout due to a scarlet fever epidemic at that institute of learning, have found a new site for their games.

Prof. Huston, director of athletics of Tufts College, offered the facilities of the Tufts gym for the meet, which was readily accepted by Track Promoters Ben Levias and Ralph Coulson and will be held the afternoon of Feb. 22, starting at 2 o'clock.

Because of the large entry only those athletes who had filed entry blanks as of last Monday are eligible to compete. Hundreds of schoolboys and others holding A. A. U. cards made application, but because of the limited facilities were turned down.

Denner's Ready For Champion

Abe Denner, West End, newest in a string of fighting featherweights who have kept this section in the 126-pound limelight back through the years, with Red Chapman, Honeyboy Finnegan, Chick Suggs, Sammy Fuller and Andy Callahan performing notably, is set for his scrap with Jackie Wilson at Mechanics Building tomorrow night.

Wilson, Pittsburgh, is the featherweight champion of the world, and Denner is listed to fight him in a 10-round non-title bout in the feature of a Boston Boxing Ass'n show, which may fill the Huntington ave. hall.

Denner is set, according to his trainer, Matty Norton.

Denner will win, according to his manager, Tommy Daly.

The crown won't be on the counter but Wilson & Co. have agreed to give Denner a return bout, without delay, in which the title will be involved. Able Abie, angling for some time for such a prominent fistic party as Wilson, is in peak mental and physical condition.

Leo Dulmaine, Marlboro, clashes with Young Byron, Roxbury, in the eight-round semi-final. A special six finds Larry Pacino and Jackie Caparell, Roxbury neighbors, fighting for the middleweight championship of that sector. In another sl:., slugging Sam Shumway, Webster, tackles Sal Cesario, North End. Two fours will fill out the card.

ELI GRID COACH HUNT POPULAR SPORT NOW

It's the season's favorite indoor sport. If you want to get into it, just write your selection down and mail it with two box tops from your favorite breakfast food. After all, what can you lose?

Up to now absolutely nothing official has been done. The inside word, however, is that the matter has narrowed down to a question of policy—whether the Elis will go for a "name" coach, like Clark Shaughnessy, Stanford's master of the model "T," or will ride with one of the fellows already on hand, say Ivan Williamson, assistant pilot of the Blues for eight years.

GRID BLACKOUT ON COAST?

One report is that Shaughnessy was interviewed here a couple of nights ago by the "recommending committee," a group of old Blues who will make a report eventually to the Yale Board of Athletic Control. This report said "Shag" was agreeable to a five-year contract at $10,000 per.

The rumor also explained that Shaughnessy was getting only about $8000 for building the model "T" at Palo Alto, and that since there is no guarantee that there will be football in that neighborhood, come fall, he is willing to move East.

The recommending committee, however, just ha-ha's this whisper. It has been interviewing coaches and prospects from the rock bound coasts to the sunny shores for weeks.

"We won't report to the board of control for at least two or three weeks, maybe longer," George Adee, a member of the committee, told the Associated press today. "The board will, in turn, report to the Yale Corporation, which has the final say. Right now, the less publicity we have, the better we'll like it."

STUDENTS DEMAND CHICAGO QUIT 'BIG TEN'

CHICAGO, Feb. 19 (AP) — The drums along the midway again are beating for the University of Chicago's withdrawal from the Big Ten.

"We're through, we've been through for years," the student magazine Pulse said today when it appeared on the campus.

"We are not through because of bad breaks," the editorial continues. "We are through because athletics and the university educational system do not mix.

"Undoubtedly we attract a different kind of student. We have no large scale subsidy. We make no large scale effort to compete in the bidding for high school men. The administration does not want it. The students do not want it. How then can we come off equally in competition with our opponents?

"The solution in the existing problem lies in our withdrawal from the Western Conference. There is no reason for our waiting to be thrown out. The administration has anticipated so many other moves in the higher education steup. It certainly should anticipate this."

The editorial also meationed the university's recent adoption of a plan for offering bachelor's degrees in two years and asked:

"How can any school attempt to compete on an equal basis with other large universities when its athletes are eligible only for two years and then only if the freshman rule were relaxed at Chicago?"

The editorial was written by Jack Glabman, sports editor of Pulse, and Werner Baum, former sports editor of the Daily Moroon student newspaper who resigned recently in protest against university athletic policies.

IT'S A THRILL TO RIDE ON BELKNAP SKI LIFT

By "TAP" GOODENOUGH

LACONIA, N. H., Feb. 19—Suspended in space on skis is a great thrill, comparable to a descent through the ether dangling like a rag doll at the end of a parachute. Such a sensation may be experienced on the 3000-foot chair lift—second highest in the East—at the Belknap Mountains Recreation Area, Gilford-Laconia.

Although we have had many rides in the past few years on this skiers' sky scraper, we never tire of being conveyed on it to the summit. It is safe, comfortable and exhilirating.

Arriving at the top, the view is breath-taking; the long range of the Belknaps seem like sparkling white gems surrounded by a necklace of lakes. Even if you do not ski, here is a trip worth making.

Many and varied are the trails leading from the summit, giving skiers of all ability a chance to try their own particular styles of schussing. The curves on the Try Me Trail have been widened and the terrain smoothed and graded. Snow conditions here, at this writing, are from fair to good. So here is real sport to be found less than one hundred miles from Boston at this million dollar development.

RECORD CROWDS

For unsurpassed grandeur, combining cross-country and downhill running, we suggest a ski jaunt along the ridge, starting at the left of the chair tram. Silhoueted against the skyline, skiers pole along the top of the mountain, then fly down the Stonebar Trail and back to the Area.

Up until the past two weeks, this schuss center has been strangely devoid of snow. Mowever, the crowds during the past two weekends have broken all records for this section, the total number of visitors being almost 12,000 on these occasions.

Operating the ski school at the Area is Earle Chandler, a U. S. forester, who starred on the slats when at the University of New Hampshire.

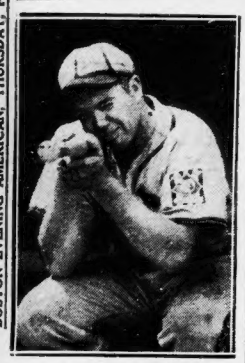
JUNIOR SKI WEEK

This expert has had wide experience in competitive skiing circles, and has served as director at most of the big jumping meets staged at the 60-meter hill at Gilford-Laconia. He is now busy making plans for the U. S. E. A. S. A. four-event meet to be held here March 7 and 8, featuring jumping and cross country and downhill and slalom.

Earle delights in teaching youngsters the art of skiing, so he is promoting a Junior Ski Week at Laconia, starting February 23. He may also run a moonlight slalom open to all unclassified skiers on a Saturday night soon.

Head instructor of this ski school is Jim Briggs, 23-year-old racer from Caribou, Maine. Jim is also famed as a hunter and fisherman, having acted as a guide for several years in northern Maine and Canada.

The Laconia Ski Patrol, well-trained in first aid, is doing an excellent job. Nevertheless, we would like to see the patrolmen here given more actual policing power, thus enabling them to order reckless runners from the slopes. Needless accidents are bound to spread bad publicity.



DON PADGETT
May Play for Army

Dodgers Face Loss of Padgett By Army Draft

HAVANA, Feb. 19 (AP) — The Brooklyn Dodgers open Spring training at Tropical Stadium today with some old favorites and some new performers on hand, but the club's two leading pitchers were among the missing.

Whitlow Wyatt and Kirby Higbe, who split 44 mound victories between them last season, were absent along with Dixie Walker, Herman Franks and Les Burge.

HIGBE REFUSES

Wyatt and Walker have not yet come to terms and Franks and Burge were given permission to report late. Higbe, however, refused to accompany the squad on its plane trip here from Miami, Fla., yesterday because a club rule would not allow his wife to go along.

Padgett, an outfielder purchased from the St. Louis Cardinals last December, may soon be inducted into the Army. He has no dependents and his draft board in Caroleen, N. C., has placed him in 1-A. Padgett told Durocher he expected to be called early next month.

CAN COLLECT PRICE

"If Padgett is called into service the Dodgers will lose a valuable player," Durocher said. "We will have to meet the situation the best we can."

Should Padgett leave the Dodgers for Army duty before the opening of the season, his sale by the Cardinals would be nullified and the Dodgers would get back the $30,000 which was paid for his release.

Paul Conley In Ring Finals

The final elimination show for the 1942 Diamond Ring tournament will be held at the Boston Arena next Monday night, under the auspices of the Irish American A. A. This will be the last chance for N. E. amateur boxers to qualify for the grand finals.

Bouts will be held in eight classes at championship weights and any boxer registered in the N. E. A. A. U. is eligible to take part. All entries must be made in writing and filed with Tom Kanaly at the Arena.

Monday's winners in all classes as well as the victors in the three previous tryouts will come together in the Diamond Ring finals at the Arena on March 2.

Latest entries came from Tommy Luckman, Brockton, 112s; Henry Czyrklis, South Boston, and James Lyman, Lowell, 118s; Joe Monteiro, Wareham, and Bob Stoddard, Roxbury, 126s; William Timilty Roxbury, and Fred Crowley, Dorchester, 135s; Thomas Dichara, Malden, and Tom Albanese, East Boston 147s; Joe DiAntonio, Milford, 160s; Paul Conley, South Boston, 175s, and Stanley Liharski, Springfield in heavyweight.

Stanford Upset Over Rumors, 'Yale To Get Shaughnessy'

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. (AP) —All is confusion at stanford University, stirred by reports that football coach Clark Shaugnessy is negotiating for a job at Yale.

One university official said if Shaughnessy wished to make a change it'd be okay with Stanford. Another said flatly it wouldn't——"what good's a contract if conditions aren't fulfilled?"

Shaughnessy doesn't even have a contract, pointed out a third

BRUINS CAN JOIN RANGERS ON LOOP ROOF

By the Associated Press

The New York Rangers, who managed to cling to the lead in the National Hockey League throughout their current losing streak, may be forced to give up a half interest in the top spot tonight, although they won't go near the ice.

While the Rangers are idle, Boston's defending champions move into Madison Square Garden to battle the Brooklyn Americans and Chicago invades Detroit in the only league games on the evening program.

CLAPPER HANDLES TEAM

Only two points separate the league-leading Rangers from the Boston Bruins and the Toronto Maple Leafs, who are tied for second place.

Dit Clapper will be in charge of the Bruins. He was assigned to direct the club when Manager Art Ross decided to devote his attention to rebuilding a team that has been riddled by injuries and the loss of its famous line.

A Boston victory over Brooklyn would boost the Bruins into a first-place deadlock and leave the idle Maple Leafs in third place.

Both the Americans and the Detroit Red Wings will be attempting to break their fifth place tie. They are only one point ahead of the Montreal Canadiens, who also rest tonight after stopping the Rangers for the second straight time Tuesday.

The Americans, who have rested since their 5-1 triumph over the Rangers Sunday, will be seeking their fourth straight win over the Boston skaters. And with the famed "kraut line" out of action, Manager Red Dutton expects Brooklyn to succeed.

NO WONDER TEAMS

New York's loss to Montreal was the fourth straight for the Rangers and their fifth in their last six starts. All of which prompted Ranger Manager Lester Patrick to observe:

"There is no wonder team in hockey. The Bruins might have been one with the krauts, and our present slump lets us out when it comes to rating a team as truly great."

YALE MEETS CANCELLED

NEW HAVEN, Ct., Feb. 19 (AP)—The Yale Athletic Association announced cancellation, because of war conditions involving the uncertainty of transportation, of track meets with Cornell at Ithaca, March 14 and Michigan State at East Lansing, Mich., March 16.

"HAVE ONE ON ME"—Ed Stewart, Quincy High hockey manager, helps all-star goalie Bob Howell to welcome draught after league game at Arena. Howell will be in net when Bay State all-stars face Eastern Mass. all-stars next Monday at Arena.

Four B. C. High Players Get 'All' Hockey Ratings

Boston College High placed four members on the Bay State All-Star hockey team, selected annually by the coaches of the league to out pace the other seven teams of the circuit.

The Eaglets, with Joe Kraatz, Johnnie Gallagher, John Carmen and Bernie Burke representing them, outdid Watertown who annexed three laurels.

Four other clubs, Quincy, Framingham, Needham and Wellesley, placed one player each in the star studded squad which will tangle with the Eastern Mass. Stars on February 23 at the Arena.

League champion, Waltham, was able to gain but two honors while pre-season favorite Walpole gained the other two berths on the squad of 15.

HONOR INJURED STARS

The most outstanding feat of the yearly selections was the fact that Joe Kraatz, pile-driving B. C. High wing, was named for the third straight season.

A tribute was paid by the coaches to Ed Songin of Walpole and Don Murray of Wellesley by placing these two lads among the honorable mentioned list. Don and Ed, first-stringers on the "All" team last season, were sidelined because of injuries in early season. If Songin and Murray could have been in action they would have been certain of top ratings, as both are fine hockey players.

Dana Hixon, Framingham forward, who was named on the first line, is only a sophomore, and stands an excellent chance of equalling Kraatz's record of being named three straight years.

Another important decision made by the coaches was the nomination of the Waltham skaters to compete in the New England Interscholastic Hockey Tournament at the Garden on March 5, 6 and 7th.

FIRST TEAM

Goalies—Bob Howell, Quincy, and Bernie Burke, B. C. High. Defensemen—Ralph Bussey, Walpole; Walter Delorey, Watertown; John Gallagher, B. C. High; and Paul Fitzpatrick, Watertown. Forwards. First Line—Ed Thomas, Waltham; Charlie Butler, Waltham; and Joe Kraatz, B. C. High. Second Line—John Carmen, B. C. High; Bob Baker, Watertown; Bill Jurgilevich, Third Line—Dana Hixon, Framingham; Lou Romaskiewicz, Needham; Frank Nicolo, Wellesley. Honorary Members—Ed Songin, Walpole, and Don Murray, Wellesley.

SECOND TEAM

Goalies—Frank Kimball, Framingham, and Don Pool, Wellesley. Defensemen—Ken Nickerson and Seth Johnson, Waltham; Dave Thompson, Needham; Charlie Adams, Framingham. Forwards, First Line—Pete Condon, Quincy; Herb Leach, Framingham; and Roy Macmillan, Needham. Second Line—Herb O'Reilly, Waltham; Milt Nelson, Wellesley; and Jerry Gleason, B. C. High. Third Line—Walter Rowan, Needham; Frank Libertino, Quincy; and Mel Boynton, Framingham.

Olneyville Host To N. Y. Naiads

OLNEYVILLE, R. I., Feb. 19—The Women's Swimming Ass'n of New York, A. A. U. champs, will swim its postponed meet with the New England All-Stars for the benefit of the Pan-American Women's Swimming Fund at the Braman Pool, Olneyville Boys' Club, on Sunday, Feb. 22, at 8:15 p. m.

Gloria Callen, backstroke queen, and Helen Rains, medley swim titlist, will head the group of 15 mermaids who will invade to battle New England's outstanding natotors.

Maria Lenk, who recently completed a tour with six South American mermen, is now studying at Springfield College.

Delahoyde's Return Lifts Harvard Nine

Harvard baseball stock took an upswing with the return of sophomore Paul Delahoyde to the catching corps. The husky Dorchester boy was ranked No. 1 receiver when the season began, but, because he anticipated being called into service, he quit the squad after only two days of practice.

Monday, however, Delahoyde enlisted in the Marine Corps and was deferred from training until September. Delahoyde made a great reputation as an excellent handler of pitchers last year, particularly of soph Warren Berg of Cambridge, who gave up just five walks all season.

Tomorrow Bill Neufeld's yearling spike stars take on Huntington, Browne and Nichols, Noble and Greenough, and Roxbury Latin in an informal clash at Briggs Cage. Mikkola said yesterday that hurdler Wes Flint might some day be the best timber topper in Crimson history. Since Milt Green and Gene "Red" Record were good enough to break world's records, that statement covers a lot of ground. Last Saturday against Exeter, with just a week of practice, Flint topped the 45-yard high sticks in 5:7 seconds. He ran a 300 trial in 34 seconds to attest his versatility. Besides Flint, weight man Pete Garland, six feet four and 210 pounds of muscle, is also tabbed for future greatness by Mikkola. Garland, end on the football team, broke the Exeter Cage shotput record Saturday with a heave of better than 56 and a half feet.

Roy Cochran, the University of Indiana speedster who swept the boards in the 600 last winter, and who finished second to Charlie Beetham at the B. A. A. games, is training this week for the New York A. A. special 500 Saturday on the Briggs Cage boards. Tuesday, he just cantered 660 yards in 1:21:6, good time for the slow Briggs oval.

Roy Cochran

"I've been taking the lead early and fading on the tape," said the blond Indiana boy, who hangs up his spikes in two weeks to go into training at the Great Lakes Naval Station, "so I think running 660 will give me enough lift to take the lead and hold Beetham Saturday."
